YOUNG BULL MOVEMENT IN STOCKS HAS A SETBACK

Meets First Barrage of Bear Selling in Late Market and a Fairly Extensive List of Shares Close Down 3 to 12 Points.

TECHNICAL REACTION WAS ANTICIPATED

Profit-Taking Sales Are of Fair Volume but Market
Is Almost at Standstill
When Drive Starts—Total Sales Not Large.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, July 21.—The tender shoots of the young bull movement in stocks, carefully nourished for the past fortnight, wilted under the first barrage of bear selling in today's market. It was incidentally one of the hottest days of the year in Wall street, which may be said to have been irritable. The leaders of the latest bull market professed unconcern, although a fairly extensive list of shares closed 3 to 12 points lower. It was pointed out that with about 45 per cent of the loss from the last level of May to the bottom of June drop, regained, a substantial technical reaction will be according to precedent.

Furthermore, bull operators were said to be unwilling to risk any such rally premature advance as that of last spring, and to be glad to let the market have a few days to consolidate the gains already made.

Trade Quiet Until Late.

Trading was not active until the last few minutes, when the ticker fell moderately in arrears. Profit-taking sales were in fair volume during the morning, but when these appeared to have been completed, the market was almost at a standstill until the bear drive just before the close. Total sales were only about 1,500,000 shares, against 1,750,000 on Friday.

Late developments in the days were scarcely of a character to inspire the bear raid, which seemed to have been motivated largely on the weakened technical position of the market, and the apparent unwillingness of many traders to retain their long positions without more definite indications of business recovery to bolster the advance. This had been indicated by the extensive profit-taking both Saturday and today.

Earnings Statements Mixed.

The late news did contain a disappointing earnings statement by Hudson Motor, which reported net profit of 47 cents a share in the second quarter, less than half that of the first and less than a fifth that of the second quarter of last year. A good earnings statement, on the other hand, was that of Procter & Gamble, showing $3.37 a share for the fiscal year ended June 30 against $2.39 in the preceding year.

News appearing over the week-end for the most part only served to emphasize more clearly the current quiet in the market.

Generally indicative, however, that bull trade was holding up relatively well for this time of year. The first of the large railway systems to report for June was Chesapeake & Ohio, which showed a decline in gross operating income of 11 per cent from the like month of a year ago, somewhat in excess of the decline for the entire first half year which was 6.4 per cent. The money market, call loans were again at 2 per cent officially, but were reported at only 1 1/2 in the outside market, against 1 1/2 Friday, showing eagerness to employ funds for the week-end resulted in a unusual surplus of offerings. Other monetary accommodations were ready.

Gold to Canada.

Sharp breaks in leading commodities helped the bear cause. Cotton lost about $1.50 to $2 a bale and wheat 1/2 cents a bushel on more favorable weather. Corn lost 2 to 2 1/2 cents.

Foreign exchanges continued steady, with sterling cables up 2 1/2 at $4.86 1/2. The Canadian dollar, however, broke from a discount of about 1/2 cent to a discount of about 1/2 cent on a shipment of $1,000,000 in gold to Montreal.

THUNDERSHOWERS
TONIGHT; FAIR AND COOLER TOMORROW

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, July 21.—Cooler weather today came to the Middle West, after three successive days of 100 degrees or more. In some places showers knocked the mercury down to the 70s.

The grain-growing plains states were first recipients of cooler weather. Des Moines, Omaha, and St. Paul in the North reporting temperatures in the low 70s.

With relief edging eastward slowly, Ohio today reported temperatures probably would equal those of yesterday, when marks of 100 degrees or better were the rule.

Columbus, O., had 112 degrees yesterday. Virginia, Maryland, West Virginia reported 106 or more.

DENVER, Colo., July 21.—From Montana to the extreme west of Texas temperatures today took an October complexion, and Colorado, New Mexico and West Texas got rain. Church-goers who were drenched going home in the rain last night woke up this morning to find the rain unabated in Denver.

It was the second rain for Colorado within a week, breaking a long drought. Temperatures ranged from 42 degrees at Leadville, Colo., high to 70 at El Paso. Other marks included 60 for Denver, 52 for Albuquerque, 56 for Cheyenne and 52 for Helena, Mont., at 6 a. m.

Cool Wave Sweeps Over Kansas; Main Brings Relief.

By the Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 21.—A cool wave was creeping eastward over the Kansas plains today on the heels of temperatures which reached 107 at McPherson, Manhattan and Emporia yesterday. Accompanying rains broke a period of drought which has caused serious crop damage. The fall was 1.71 inches at Norton, 1.46 at Goodland, .88 at Concordia.

Clouds and threatening rain brought relief to Kansas citizens after a sleepless night and in Western Missouri modified the temperatures, which reached 103 at St. Joseph yesterday.

FULTON, Mo., July 21.—A .03-inch rain fell here shortly before 2 o'clock today.

Washington Reports Record of 105.6 for Sunday.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, July 21.—The Capital today began another day of its endurance contest with the heat, with the thermometer registering 91 at 9 a. m. That was six degrees warmer than at 9 o'clock yesterday. Sunday's maximum was a record high of 105.6. The forecast for the District of Columbia was "continued warm weather" tonight. Some relief was promised tomorrow. The forecast said that showers would be local thundershowers with the weather "not quite so warm in the afternoon." Cooler temperatures were predicted for tomorrow night and Tuesday.

So intense was the heat that the Secretary of the State Department closed this afternoon.

The mercury had climbed to 100 by noon. As the heat continued to increase, the Treasury Department dismissed all its employees who could be spared and other departments contemplated following suit.

Three Heat Deaths Reported in Maryland, Many Prostrated.

By the Associated Press.

BALTIMORE, July 21.—Three deaths and about 30 prostrations in Maryland were attributed to the heat today as thermometers early gave indications that yesterday's record-breaking temperatures of 100 or more would be passed during the day. A clerk on his way to work this morning fell dead as the mercury at 9 o'clock had passed the 90 degree mark. Another man died from a broken back suffered yesterday while he was swimming, and a third man died from a heart attack while he was at Hagerstown. The temperature was 107 degrees yesterday at Hagerstown.

Assistant Federal Attorney Wilkinson said the three banks had been reorganized and their losses, except for $8000, had been recovered.

WRECK IN SNOW, FOUR KILLED

By the Associated Press.

MEOPHAM, Kent, England, July 21.—Six persons, including the Viscountess Ednam, a woman of unusual beauty and a close friend of the Prince of Wales, plunged to death when a mid-air explosion tore to shreds an air taxi speeding to Croydon from a week-end at Le Touquet, France.

Mrs. Henric Loeffler, another woman famed for her beauty and the receptions she gave at her elaborate home in Grosvenor Square, Mayfair, was a victim.

Mrs. Loeffler's reception was among the most important events of the London society season.

The Marquis of Dufferin and Ava and Sir Edward Ward, who moved in the same exclusive circles, Lieutenant-Colonel George L. P. Henderson, an airman with a fine flying record, the plane's chief pilot and Charles Shearing, 28 years old, assistant pilot, completed the death toll. Henderson was breathing when villagers reached his side but died of a doctor's efforts.

Late this afternoon this picturesque hamlet four miles south of Gravesend was startled by a roar in the sky and a terrific detonation. Villagers who looked skyward saw the Junkers plane, a machine owned by the Henderson Flying School, and lent to the Walcott Air Lines, Limited, suddenly fly into bits.

The bodies of all of the occupants hurtled earthward and fell in a cluster in a garden next to a cottage.

Plunged About for Yards.

The rest of the outfit, wings, engine and cabin, were flung about for hundreds of yards.

Today's crash was one of the worst disasters in the history of British commercial aviation, because of the prominence of its victims as well as their number. It followed closely upon another gruesome tragedy of the air which occurred on July 7 when a German Dornier-Wal flying boat in the Steppin-Kalmar-Stockholm service was forced down in the Baltic near Bornholm and broke into bits in a stormy sea. In that disaster two Americans lost their lives, Dr. John L. Burkholder of Mount Pleasant, Pa., and Miss Mary Patricia Northrup of Philadelphia, whose body was found last week.

A queer feature of today's accident was the finding of one of the plane's wings fully two miles from the scene where the bodies and engine came down.

During attempts to identify Lady Ednam, it was recalled that Lord and Lady Ednam's 7-year-old son was killed on the Chelsea embankment in London last December when he was crushed under a truck while riding his bicycle.

The machine had left Le Touquet at 1 p. m.

Sir Edward was the leader in measures taken by the British for the comfort of American troops in the war. He was the organizer of the "fireless friendship" movement in England for the United States flying fighters.

Investigators learned that all of the passengers, well known to one another, had spent a week-end at the gay French resort. Lord Dufferin and Sir Edward had been staying over the week-end at Mrs. Loeffler's villa. Lady Ednam was paying a visit to London after attending her sick husband at Le Touquet. She had not originally booked a place in the plane, but finding at the last minute that there was a vacant seat had decided to make the journey.

LONDON, July 21.—Bishop James Cannon Jr., of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and chairman of the church's Board of Temperance and Social Service, was married at Christ Church, Mayfair, last Tuesday afternoon, to Mrs. Helen Hawley McCallum, a widow. It was made known today.

The Rev. Dr. Ferram was the officiating clergyman.

Bishop Cannon and his bride are en route to Brazil. He is 65 years old. They were married by a special license issued at the faculty office. A friend of the Bishop, Sir Henry Lunn, editor of the review of the churches, was instrumental in obtaining the special license through the Archbishop of Canterbury.

The bride is said to have been the Bishop's secretary for about a year. She came over with him recently and stayed at the home of Sir Henry and Lady Lunn. She had not been well and had planned to rest in England until the Bishop's return from South America, but it was finally decided after reaching London that the sea trip to South America would do her good and hurried plans were made for the marriage. The bride is said to be between 40 and 45 years old.

BRYAN STATION SPRING RUNS

For Fort.

By the Associated Press.

LEXINGTON, Ky., July 21.—Bryan Station Spring, famed in history as the spring from which Kentucky pioneer women obtained water when Bryan Station fort was besieged by Indians in 1782, has run dry.

Story books have long chronicled the bravery of the women who ran through Indian fire to carry water to the fort while the men staved off the attack of the Indians. Replenishment of the water supply enabled the pioneers to hold out until reinforcements arrived.

The spring, now enclosed by a memorial to the women erected by the Bryan Station chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, ordinarily has an abundant flow of pure drinking water. The present stoppage of the flow, the first in the history of living persons, is attributed to the prolonged drought in Central Kentucky.

JACKSON, O'BRIEN TAKE OFF ON NEW ENDURANCE FLIGHT

Attempting to Regain Record They Lost to Hunter Brothers, Who Remained in Air 553 Hours.

By the Associated Press.

The airplane, The Greater St. Louis, carrying Dale (Red) Jackson and Forest O'Brien in an attempt to regain the refueling endurance flight record they formerly held, took off at Lambert-St. Louis Municipal Airport this morning to "fly as long as the plane and motor will hold together."

It was 7:11 o'clock when the heavily loaded plane that must fly continuously until Aug. 13 to break the existing record, ambled, then streaked 1000 feet across the field, climbing sluggishly under the weight of 155 gallons of gasoline and the large amount of apparatus incident to the flight, the ship leveled off at 1500 feet and with the motor throttled to minimum flying speed of about 65 miles an hour, circled slowly above the airport.

Take Off Far From Crowd.

The 500 spectators who had been at the field, some of them since midnight, to watch the takeoff, were disappointed when the yellow-winged monoplane left the ground at the far side of the field, near the Curtiss-Robertson factory, where it was stored last night.

However, it was explained, O'Brien and Jackson, who had planned to taxi up to the crowd, decided not to do so because they were afraid the great weight might weaken some part of the plane.

And so, after eating a ham sandwich and drinking a bottle of milk apiece, the flyers kissed their wives and, turning to Police Judge Roemer, who was standing nearby, asked him to flip a coin to determine which one would take the ship off. O'Brien won the toss.

The flyers then stowed a package of sandwiches, cigars and cigarettes in the cabin. Jackson climbed into the rear of the plane and lay down and O'Brien, grinning, settled himself in the high-backed pilot's seat, waved and "gave her the gun."

"Shorty" Chaffee, who handled the refueling hose in last year's flight and who will perform the same duty this year, was in the small group at the factory, with Bill Brewster, who will pilot the refueling ship. Officers of flying companies, airplane factory hands and others regularly at the field composed the rest of the group.

Record 22 Days Away.

It will be 22 days, one hour, 41 minutes and 30 seconds before The Greater St. Louis will equal the record set at Sky Harbor, Chicago, by the Hunter brothers, Spats and Rex.

Walsh's Proposal Declaring
It Policy of Government to Build Full Fleet Allowed by Pact Among Those That Failed.

By CHARLES G. ROSS,

Chief Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, July 21.—The Senate this afternoon ratified the London naval treaty by a vote of 58 to 9.

The work of the special session being completed, the Senate adjourned sine die.

The margin of victory for the treaty proponents, at the end of a debate lasting a little more than two weeks, was far in excess of the required two-thirds.

The nine Senators directly recording their votes against ratification were Bingham (Rep.), Connecticut; Hale (Rep.), Maine; Johnson (Rep.), California; McKellar (Dem.), Tennessee; Moses (Rep.), New Hampshire; Oddie (Rep.), Nevada; Pine (Rep.), Oklahoma; Robinson (Rep.), Indiana; Walsh (Dem.), Massachusetts.

In addition, Pittman (Dem.), Nevada; Waterman (Rep.), Colorado; Copeland (Dem.), New York; Broussard (Dem.), Louisiana; and Shipstead (Farmer-Labor), Minnesota, were paired against the treaty.

Patterson (Rep.), Missouri, voted for the treaty, and Howe (Dem.), Missouri, was paired for it.

Johnson's Final Blast.

In a last blast against the treaty, Senator Johnson declared he was as proud of this fight as of any he had ever made in his life. Declaring that "Hughes and Root were outwitted by Balfour at the Washington conference," he said it was quite possible that the American statesmen who negotiated the London treaty were mistaken in their estimate of it. He praised the little band of Senators who had been "willing to take their political lives in their hands" to oppose the treaty.

"It's a sacred cause for which we fought, and in bidding good-by to it tonight, I do so with my head in the air," said Johnson.

The treaty must be ratified also by Great Britain and Japan before it becomes effective.

Entering the final stage of the fight over the treaty, the Senate in rapid-fire order knocked out a long series of proposed reservations.

Before voting on the hostile reservations, the Senate accepted without dissent and without a record vote the Norris reservation affirming the statement of the President and the senatorial delegates to the London conference that the treaty means what it says and no more. The preamble of the Norris reservation, which some Senators had called an affront to the President, had already been dropped.

Norris' resolution stipulates that no approval is given by this ratification to any secret understanding or agreement which may exist in relation to the treaty.

Reed of Pennsylvania, speaking for the treaty champions, said he had no objection to the Norris reservation in its amended form, and Johnson of California, leader of the opposition, chimed in that he, too, was for it, though he thought it should be "40 times as strong."

Walsh Recreation Falls.

Walsh (Dem.), Massachusetts, then offered as a reservation his proposal that the Senate go on record in favor of the "substantial" stipulation of the full program of building permitted under the treaty.

Earlier in the day Walsh had sought to have his resolution voted on as an independent proposition, but had been blocked by La Follette (Rep.), Wisconsin, who said the issue raised by Walsh had no connection with the treaty.

BETHLEHEM STEEL HEADWIN 1929 GOT $1,623,753 BONUS

E. G. Grace Testifies Since 1925 He Has Drawn 3.3 Pct of Net Earnings Beside $12,000 Salary.

POINT RAISED IN FIGHT ON MERGER

C. S. Eaton Says This Was Concealed From Young-town Stockholders When They Voted to Combine.

By the Associated Press.
YOUNGSTOWN, O., July 21.—Eugene G. Grace received a bonus of $1,623,753 in 1929 as president of Bethlehem Steel Corporation, he testified today in the suit to enjoin sale of the Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co. to Bethlehem.

The bonus was in addition to the stipulated $12,000 annual salary which he testified last week he received regularly.

Revelation of Grace's compensation for last year followed a three-day legal contest.

Attorneys for the Cyrus S. Eaton interests, opposed to the merger of the Youngstown and Bethlehem companies, sought the testimony in support of their contention that the Bethlehem company paid Grace unwarranted amounts, and that these amounts were fraudulently concealed from the stockholders of the Youngstown company when they ratified the merger last April.

Tells of Bonus.

An objection by defense attorneys to the question about Grace's bonus was considered over the week-end by Judge David G. Jenkins and overruled shortly after court opened today. The court held that, inasmuch as Grace testified his present bonus arrangement had been in effect for the last five and one-half years, he would be allowed to state the amount.

Grace then testified that since 1925 he has received a bonus of 3.31 per cent of the net earnings after fixed charges, less a discount equal to the annual preferred dividend, but before depreciation. The earnings of Bethlehem were $49,000,000 in 1929, making his bonus $1,623,753.

He explained that if earnings were low he was entitled only to a bonus of one-half of one per cent, but explained that since 1925 earnings had been high enough to permit the 3.31 per cent.

Explains Grace Interest.

Guthrie Day of Cleveland, chief of the Eaton attorneys, charged that Grace financed a loan of $300,000 to Pickands, Mather & Co., ore firm, to buy Youngstown stock, prior to the merger ratification.

"Grace's bonus would be increased by the acquiring of Youngstown Sheet & Tube," he said. "Youngstown stockholders are entitled to all facts, conditions and details in regard to this."

Grace then explained that he received a check for $1000 monthly as salary and later his bonus check when the amount had been calculated.

Corrects Testimony.

Following a recess, Grace corrected his testimony to say that he does receive a check for $12,500 the first of every month. Of this, he said, $1000 is for salary and the remaining $11,500 is deducted from his bonus when it is calculated.

After that his testimony concerned negotiations leading up to the merger. He stated his first discussion about a merger with the Youngstown company was with Charles M. Schwab, chairman of the Bethlehem company.

The first time he talked to anyone connected with the Youngstown company, he said, was during a trip to ore reserves of the Northwest in 1926 or 1927, with James A. Campbell, chairman, and H. G. Dalton, director of Youngstown, present.

The combination of the two companies, he said, would have created a billion dollar corporation and placed it in a position for more efficient competition with the United States Steel Corporation. Among the advantages which he said Bethlehem would bring to the Youngstown Company was a better cash position and shipping on all waters.

JOSEPH EHRHARDT.

ST. LOUIS BOY WINNER OF WORLD PLANE PRIZE

Joseph Ehrhardt, 17, Takes International Honor With Model Craft at London.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
DETROIT, Mich., July 21.—Joseph Ehrhardt of St. Louis won the international outdoor model airplane competition at London Saturday, according to announcement today by the American Boy Magazine, which sent him abroad.

The victory carries with it the Wakefield cup, which will be brought to the United States for the first time.

Ehrhardt, who previously won the American championship, kept his model plane in the air two minutes and 45 seconds. William Chaffee of Dayton, O., won sixth place. English boys took the other places.

After visiting Brussels and Paris, Ehrhardt will sail for home Aug. 5.

Ehrhardt, who is 17 years old, is the son of Mrs. Ben C. Ehrhardt, 7020 Wise avenue. Besides winning the national outdoor contest at Detroit he won the championship for the best fuselage. Last winter he won the national indoor model contest sponsored by the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce during the International Aircraft Exposition at The Arena.

The plane in which he won the international contest, however, was constructed aboard ship en route to England. His mother, who, today described herself as "tickled pink," said he took a model with him, but decided to build another at the last minute after sailing from Montreal July 5 last.

Ehrhardt is an Eagle Scout with three palms, holding 70 merit badges, several of them for aeronautics, more than any other Boy Scout in St. Louis.

AIR DERBY FLYERS AT ROOSEVELT FIELD

Lee Gehlsbach Leads Field of 18 to New York From Buffalo.

By the Associated Press.
ROOSEVELT FIELD, N. Y., July 21.—The 18 planes of the All-American Air Derby began arriving here from Buffalo at 1:42 o'clock this afternoon, with Lee Gehlsbach of Detroit in the lead. His time from Buffalo was 1 hour 41 minutes. He was also winner of the first leg of the flight around the country, from Detroit to Buffalo, this morning.

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 21.—Early arrivals reported encountering high winds between here and Detroit which made flying difficult and at times dangerous.

Other planes landed in the following order: L. R. Bayles, Springfield, Mass., time 1 hour, 24 minutes; Charles Meyers, Cleveland, 1 hour, 30 minutes; Stanley T. Stanlon, Blackwell, Ok., 1 hour, 36 minutes; Basil B. Smith, Portland, Ore., 1 hour, 41 minutes.

The plane left Detroit at 10:00 a. m. In the 520-mile race around the United States the flyers are competing for $25,000 in prizes.

New York is the overnight stop and from there the planes turn westward tomorrow on a 600-mile lap to Cincinnati. From there they go to Little Rock, Houston, San Angelo, Tex., Douglas, Ariz., Los Angeles, Ogden, Utah, Lincoln, Neb., and back to Detroit.

The schedule calls for their return on Aug. 2.

Winners will be determined by the shortest elapsed time between control points, the pilot with the least flying time for the total distance winning the first prize, $15,000. Second place gets $7000 and third, $3000. Lap prizes posted by various cities on the itinerary add another $11,500.

FATHER CONFESSES KILLING 3 CHILDREN

Bodies Found in Quarry at Martinsburg, W. Va.—
Mouths Tied Shut.

By the Associated Press.
MARTINSBURG, W. Va., July 21.—State and county officials today said Taylor Hott, Martinsburg laborer, had confessed to them that he killed his three small children because his wife was unable to take care of them.

The children were: Gertrude Virginia, 7 years old; Calvin W., 6, and Boyd Preston, 5. The bodies were taken from the water in a quarry hole here today.

They apparently had been strangled by strips of cloth drawn tightly about their throats. Physicians said the bodies had been in the water about eight hours.

The authorities said, however, that they discounted Hott's assigned motive. They also said an autopsy on Boyd Preston Hott indicated that he was not drowned but had died of a fractured skull.

The confession stated, C. N. Campbell, Assistant Prosecuting Attorney of Berkeley County, said that Hott took the children to the quarry hole on the pretense of letting them go in swimming.

Hott said he bound the mouths of the children to muffle any outcry and then pushed the children into the water.

Hott was placed under arrest on charges of murder.

Ill, who landed early this month after 553 hours, 41 minutes and 30 seconds in the air. Under rules of the National Aeronautic Association, one hour additional must elapse before the record is broken.

Jackson and O'Brien were summoned down last year after 420 hours, 21 minutes and 30 seconds in the air, when officers of the Curtis-Robertson Airplane Manufacturing Co., sponsors of the flight, decided the previous record being thoroughly broken, there was no use taking any chances with a possible faulty landing at night or some mishap that would prevent the record from becoming official.

This year's flight, however, is a private enterprise. O'Brien and Jackson are flying the new Curtis-Robinson given them last year for breaking the record and they are financing the project by popular subscription. The decision on when they will land rests with the men in the air and will depend, they have said, on the ruggedness of the ship and motor.

"We're not figuring on hours this time," O'Brien said shortly before the flight. "We're planning to land it in weeks. If anything should go wrong, we'll land, make repairs and start all over again right away."

Sunday Crowd Sees Test.

Jackson and O'Brien in the endurance ship and Brewster and Chaffee in the refueling practiced making contact at the field yesterday afternoon before a crowd estimated at 5000 persons. Earlier yesterday the endurance flyers went over every nut and bolt in their ship, tightening, inspecting and attempting to make certain that no carelessness of assembly would prevent them breaking the record.

The heavy load of gas that The Greater St. Louis carried will last, it is expected, for the entire day. The refueling crew expects a note ordering gas oil and food about 4:30 p. m. and will make the first contact of the flight shortly afterward.

By 8 a. m. all excitement over the start of the endurance flight had abated. Persons on the ground went about their various affairs with only an occasional glance into the air.

THE rapidity with which the Old South is emerging is not generally appreciated. It has attracted new blood and new capital. From a region of plantations it is becoming also a region of industry and commerce. But its economic development is not so great as its change in thought. It is less local and more national.

There are three important influences that are removing its inertia of mind and body. The public schools have been much improved both in housing and courses of instruction. Their power has become very great. The radio has done for people of mature years what the schoolhouse has done for the youth in the way of lifting them out of themselves and giving them new ideas. This is changing the tone and the influence of the local press. And the system of good roads, which is already extensive and rapidly increasing, whereby the automobile has enlarged the circumference of mental vision ranks very high in the progress of the new South. It has made the country accessible not only to itself but to the outside world.

We behold a people of high spirit and great natural endowments under the inspiration of a new hope coming into their own.

Senate Ratifies Naval Treaty by Vote of 58 to 9 place in the consideration of the treaty. Incidentally, the young Wisconsin Senator served notice that he would oppose the granting of funds for the execution of the treaty program.

By offering his resolution as a reservation, Walsh got it before the Senate for an immediate vote. Walsh argued that the reason the United States had failed at Geneva and again at London to get armament reduction was that it had not ships to scrap.

Borah (Rep., Idaho), opposing the reservation, said it was quite probable that within the next six years, the United States would build the ships authorized by the treaty, but he did not care to commit himself now to that program. He pointed out that the House as well as the Senate would have to act on any ship building program.

Robinson (Dem., Arkansas), and Reed (Rep., Pennsylvania), naval conference delegates, both emphasized that the Walsh reservation had to do with a purely domestic concern.

Put to a vote, the Walsh reservation was beaten by a vote of 54 to 11. Senators voting for it were: Bingham (Rep., Connecticut); Hale (Rep., Maine); Johnson (Rep., California); Kendrick (Rep., Wyoming); McKellar (Dem., Tennessee); Moses (Rep., New Hampshire); Oddie (Rep., Nevada); Overman (Dem., North Carolina); Robinson (Rep., Indiana); Thomas (Dem., Oklahoma); and Walsh (Dem., Massachusetts). Copeland (Dem., New York, was paired for the reservation.

Twelve other reservations were killed before the final vote on the treaty.

McKellar Group Voted Down.

Without debate, the Senate rejected, 58 to 9, the reservation of Senator McKellar (Dem., Tennessee), providing for freedom of the seas in time of war as well as in peace.

A second McKellar reservation to limit the number of merchant ships which might be convertible into vessels of war was beaten without a record vote.

One after another of the McKellar reservations were rejected. "I know what the result will be," said McKellar, "and I won't ask for record votes."

The Senate rejected, 57 to 9, the reservation of Senator Johnson (Rep., California), providing that all of the 18 eight-inch gun cruisers allowed the United States by the treaty be constructed during the life of the treaty.

As the Johnson reservation was defeated Bingham (Rep., Connecticut, congratulated the treaty advocates on "the excellent steam roller you have constructed." He then offered a reservation providing that the United States could build any class of cruiser desired if Great Britain or Japan build additional cruisers under the escalator clause.

The Bingham reservation was defeated, 54 to 10.

Moses (Rep., New Hampshire), offered a reservation calling for less "recapture of the right to arm the United States naval bases in the Pacific because of the loss of 5-2 ratio with Japan under the terms of the London treaty." His reservation also was defeated without a record vote.

The same majority overrode additional reservations. One by Johnson, stipulating that the treaty shall be void if the United States enters either the League of Nations or the World Court, lost, 58 to 8.

Another Johnson reservation, asserting that the United States did not regard the treaty as "relinquishing" its policy against foreign entangling alliances, was beaten without a record vote.

Senator Robert F. Wagner (Dem., New York, whose colleague, Copeland, has been an outstanding opponent of the London naval treaty, came out for its ratification today in one of the most thoughtful speeches of the long debate.

Though he regarded it as a "feeble" treaty, failing far short of the high hopes raised by the advance statements of President Hoover, Wagner said the failure to ratify it would "multiply those seeds of war of which there is even a surplus." He weighed the arguments pro and con and reached the conclusion that "the balance of advantage is on the side of the treaty."

"America, leader in the pursuit of peace," he summed up, "should not refuse to join an effort towards its realization."

Wagner said the Senate had been diverted from the real issue and into a discussion of technicalities by the skill of Senator Johnson of California.

"We have been faced with the anomalous situation that the debate in the Senate has been concerned by those who want big navies and big navies," he said. "Wagner said that the people with reason to be disappointed in the treaty were not the opponents of reduction but those who had hoped for a real achievement in limitation. By the standards which the President and his spokesmen had laid down, continued the Senator, the treaty 'did not emerge as a in Louisiana.

A 33-year search for a Negro accused of murder ended yesterday with the arrest of a janitor known to the Negro community in which he lives at 112 Elwood street, as "the Rev. C. B. Gugenheim," who gives Bible lessons and preaches to street corner audiences in the neighborhood.

He admitted to Ira Cooper, Negro Detective Lieutenant, that his real name is Charles Allen, and that he is the man sought by Louisiana authorities, although he denies that he is a murderer. The preacher-janitor announced that he would resist extradition.

The capture of Allen resulted from the unrelenting vigilance of Lamartine Bouanchaud, who has served 41 consecutive years as Sheriff in Pointe Coupee Parish.

On an autumn day in 1897, the James A. Rigney appeared at the Sheriff's office at New Roads and asked that a Deputy be sent with him to collect a bill for medical services from Allen, who lived at Bayou Enferme. Sheriff Bouanchaud sent Deputy Grigsby.

Allen resisted when they attempted to seize his hog and cotton and in an exchange of shots, Dr. Rigney was killed and Deputy Grigsby was shot in the arm, the bullet fracturing the bone, from the elbow to the wrist.

The Negro escaped, but Sheriff Bouanchaud promised the physician's relatives to apprehend him.

Recently, the Sheriff learned that one of Allen's daughters had married and lived at Plaquemine, La. He went to see her and found that she had received a letter from her father in St. Louis. Police here were requested to forward information about "the Rev. Mr. Gugenheim."

Sheriff Bouanchaud was certain of the description sent by the Negro's arrest, and came here to get the prisoner.

Allen tells a different story of the killing. Grigsby threatened him with a pistol and started to take a hog he had been fattening for corn. Grigsby related, adding that Dr. Rigney was trying to cheat him.

"I jumped behind the doctor, pulled out my revolver and told him to stand still," Allen said, demonstrating as he recounted the story from a cell at Police Headquarters. "Grigsby, whom I knew as McCabe, shot at me and hit the doctor instead. I shot Grigsby in the arm and hand, hiding in the swamps and traveling at night I finally got to St. Louis and I have been here ever since."

very glorious document." He estimated that the treaty fleets of the United States, Great Britain and Japan would represent an investment of $5,555,787,750, or nearly $2,000,000,000 for the United States, nearly $2,000,000,000 for Britain and $1,300,000,000 for Japan.

Wagner charged that since the return of the American delegation from London, the Hoover administration had been trying to exploit the treaty for partisan purposes.

From the debate, said Wagner, had emerged an issue transcending all other issues in connection with the treaty. That issue was whether or not the policy and program of the United States for national defense should proceed from the assumption that war is an ever present probability.

"I do hope that the Senate will not, by rejecting this treaty, arouse the fear both at home and abroad that it subscribes to such a philosophy."

Mrs. Gladys Vanisheim, of Louis Struck by a Copperhead Near Union, Mo.

Mrs. Gladys Vanisheim, 37 years old, of 3701 Finney avenue is recovering at City Hospital after the bite of a copperhead snake, which bit her on the arm while she was on an outing with her husband, Edmund Vanisheim, and their five children.

The promptness of Vanisheim in seeking the poison from the wound was said by physicians to have been a factor in her quick recovery. Mrs. Vanisheim said that the snake bit her on the arm when she stepped on it in the dark on the way to a creek a mile of water.

The watchman, William Guck, 2602 North Jefferson avenue, sitting in front of the building when the robbers, who had entered through a rear door, emerged from the building, held him up, armed him and forced him to take the office with them.

Before leaving, the robbers loosened his bonds and told him to get his pistol in the rear of the building, where he later covered it. Guck freed him and notified William Knost, manager.

Mrs. Louis Sherman, proprietress of her husband's clothing store and Dryers, Inc., reported the theft of a dress which she held up in the shop, 4137 South Grand boulevard, 7:40 a. m. today by a man who forced her to open the safe and took from it the week-end receipt for $715. The loss was insured. The Shermans reside at the shop.

Chicago Packer and Wife He Kept From Appearing on Stage in France

JANE AUBERT and her husband, NELSON MORRIS.

Four deaths attributed to heat prostration were reported yesterday, following the high temperature of yesterday, the third successive day on which a reading of at least 100 degrees was recorded.

The dead:

Herman Tate, 53 years old, 1502A Buchanan street, a teamster, overcame July 12.

Fred Sandler, 65, 2210 Oano street, who collapsed Friday.

James L. Cross, 42, a foreman, of Chicago, who became ill after driving here with his wife to visit relatives at 1518 North Twenty-fifth street.

Edward Lucas, 60, found dead in his room at the McKinley Hotel, 809 High street.

The mercury reached 100 degrees at 4:15 p. m. and kept close to that mark during the whole of the afternoon, causing the usual exodus last night from dwellings to city parks where persons sought sleep on improvised beds on the grass.

As was the case during the nine-day heat wave which ended July 13, after the deaths of 114 persons, humidity has been low, lessening the rigor by causing more rapid evaporation of perspiration. Yesterday, an 11-mile-an-hour wind gave some additional relief.

Swimming pools and river beaches were crowded and park shade trees sheltered many who, without automobiles, could not reach country resorts.

Shaded thermometers at street level registered maximums as high as 112 degrees, the instruments of the Government Weather Bureau being 22 stories above the street. A thermometer exposed to the sun showed a reading of 125 degrees at a West End drug store.

Forecasters said this morning that relief might be expected within the next 18 hours with the arrival of thunderstorms, holding tomorrow's highest reading to near the July average maximum of 87 degrees.

With $1500 in cash wrapped in a dress and placed in a shoe box, Mrs. Celia Lustig came from Mount Vernon, Ill., yesterday to visit relatives at 1287 Hamilton avenue, she told police. The money had been drawn from a bank for safe keeping.

Mrs. Lustig stopped at a drug store at Page boulevard and Taylor avenue to make a purchase, she said, walked to Easton avenue and boarded a street car. She missed the box of money when she got off at 5700 Page, and could not recall whether she had it when she entered the car.

All the money was in currency, police were told, $1000 being in $20 bills and the remainder in bills of varying denominations.

WARRANT ISSUED FOR FOURTH MAN FOR KIDNAPING

Carl Fiorita, Cuckoo Gangster, Sought as One of the Abductors of Sam Scorfina, Grocer.

RECENTLY BEGAN TERM FOR MURDER

Released When New Trial Was Ordered—Attorney Sidener Applies for Copies of Papers in Case.

Carl Fiorita, Cuckoo gangster, once convicted of murder, is named in a warrant issued at St. Louis for the fourth of the kidnapers of Sam Scorfina, Carr street grocer.

Fiorita, who is being sought by the St. Louis police, was released from custody in Edwardsville, Ill., a month ago, after the Illinois Supreme Court had remanded his conviction of murder for a new trial. He had been convicted, with Henry Etzel, of the murder of Elmer Baltz, cashier of the First National Bank of Madison, in a $23,000 robbery. The Supreme Court held that certain evidence, relating to identification of the bullet which killed Baltz, should not have been admitted.

As the case was dependent on this evidence, the Madison County prosecutor decided to drop the charge against Fiorita, and he was turned over to the St. Louis police. At that time, a charge of participation in the Union-Easton Trust Co. robbery was pending against him, and he is still under bond on this charge, the St. Louis police say. He was charged previously with connection with the robbery of the Hamilton State bank, but this charge was dismissed.

The warrant against Fiorita in the kidnaping case was issued by State's Attorney Lindauer at the same time with the warrants against Sora Mantia, Mike Lombardo and Baptista Bommarito, all under arrest in St. Louis. Because Fiorita was not in custody, the warrant against him was not made public with the rest. Today, however, Howard Sidener, former Circuit Attorney of St. Louis, asked the State's Attorney's office for a copy of the complaint against Fiorita and the others. State's Attorney Lindauer took this as indicating that Fiorita knew of the search for him and that Sidener was to represent him.

The three men held for the Scorfina kidnaping are to be prosecuted in St. Clair County, as the kidnaping occurred in East St. Louis, while Scorfina was on his way to the Madison Kennel Club dog races. Extradition proceedings are under way for Mantia, Lombardo and Bommarito under Illinois law, the maximum punishment for kidnaping for ransom is death.

Scorfina has given the police identifications of the three men under arrest, and has shown himself eager to prosecute them. He said five men took part in the kidnaping. He was taken from the East Side by his kidnapers to the vicinity of St. Genevieve, Mo., was held four days and was beaten and starved by his captors, who demanded $10,000 ransom. He escaped from them Wednesday night, and all his captors got from him was the $400 which he had been taking to a dog track.

ESCAPING GROCERY ROBBER KILLED IN AUTO COLLISION

Companion Seriously Hurt in Brooklyn After Holdup That Netted $50.

NEW YORK, July 21.—A robber attempting to escape after a $50 holdup was killed and his companion was seriously injured today when their automobile hit a vegetable truck and was struck by a 10-ton sand truck. The driver of the vegetable wagon was seriously hurt.

The two robbers, as yet unidentified, held up a chain store grocery in South Brooklyn, slugged the manager and made off with $50. They drove madly down Ninety-eighth street and into heavy traffic. They avoided two or three cars, but crashed into Isidor Cohen's truck. As they jumped from their wrecked auto, the sand truck crashed into the wreckage.

DRY RAID INTERRUPTS RHINE CELEBRATION AT GERMAN HOUSE

50 Participating in Evacuation Observance When U. S. Agents Enter—2 Arrested

Federal prohibition agents interrupted a celebration of the French evacuation of the Rhineland at the German House, 2345 Lafayette avenue, Saturday night, by raiding the bar in the basement of the building. They reported finding six gallons of whisky and 650 pints of beer and ale, which they seized.

Furd Kopetsky, the bartender, of 3547 Indiana avenue, was charged with the sale and possession of liquor, the first coming under the Jones law. Ernest Latsch, manager of the bar and restaurant, who lives in the building, was charged with possession.

About 50 persons, who said they were gathered to celebrate the evacuation of the Rhineland, were in the restaurant and adjoining bowling alley when the raiders appeared.

OCEAN FLYERS IN FAST TRIP FROM AKRON TO NEW YORK

NEW YORK, July 21.—Flying for a change as passengers, but still setting up new air records, Wing Commander Charles E. Kingsford-Smith and two of the men who flew here with him from Ireland in the Southern Cross, Capt. J. Patrick Sull, navigator, and John W. Stannage, radio operator, landed at Roosevelt Field, L. I., yesterday noon, following a non-stop flight of two hours and 25 minutes from Akron, O.

Lee Shoenhar, who brought them in the Wasp-motored Lockheed Vega cabin monoplane, Miss Silvertown, at an average speed of 175 miles an hour, said he thought it was the quickest passenger trip between the two cities. Most of the flight was made at 10,000 feet for the dual purpose of getting strong following winds.

Schoenhar picked up the trans-Atlantic airmen at Kansas City Saturday morning, after they had flown there the day before from Los Angeles over Western Air Express.

Kingsford-Smith has completed arrangements to fly from London to Australia in an effort to better the 15 1/2-day record for this journey, which was set several years ago by Bert Hinkler, another Australian, in a light airplane.

HOTEL MAN'S SUICIDE LAID TO LACK OF WORK

"World's Greatest Landlord," Successful in Every Way, Had No Hobbies.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, July 21.—The suicide of Harry Black, known as "The World's Greatest Landlord," because of his extensive hotel interests, was ascribed by friends today to "lack of interest."

"Emminently successful in business at 67, happily married, he still had no hobby of real interest to hold his attention or, apparently, to make the prospect of further life pleasant. He did not play cards or golf or indulge in any other sport. He spent five days a week at his office, but his gift for organization and management had made unnecessary very much attention to his business affairs."

Mrs. Black was in Europe on her first separation from him since their marriage in 1922, and friends said he apparently was overcome with melancholy.

Lack of powder marks on the temple, where entered the bullet which took his life Saturday at his Long Island estate, led to an extended investigation of his death by authorities, but the inquiry was dropped today and the death was officially listed as "suicide: Reason, melancholy."

His body was removed today to a vault in a Brooklyn cemetery to await Mrs. Black's arrival from Ireland. She left for home yesterday.

Black was head of the United States Realty and Improvement Co., which owned and operated a chain of hotels; a director of the National City Bank, the George A. Fuller Co., the M. K. & T. Railroad and other enterprises.

SUPPLY OFFICER ON BYRD'S FLAGSHIP HELD FOR BIGAMY

Claire Deltrich Also Accused of Non-Support by Wife in Reading, Pa.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, July 21.—Claire Deltrich, who as Claire Alexander was a member of the Byrd Antarctic expedition, was arrested here last night on a warrant obtained by his wife in Reading, Pa., for bigamy and non-support.

Deltrich was supply officer of the Byrd expedition flagship City of New York. Police said Mrs. Deltrich recognized her husband under the names of the three employees, who implicated Segal as the "fence" in the thefts.

MOTHER OF BABY LEFT IN HOTEL ROOM FOUND

Miss Edna Lapinot of East St. Louis Claims Child at Chicago Orphanage.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, July 21.—The mother of "Smiling Jimmy" Stevens, 4-month-old baby boy, found abandoned in a room at the Stevens Hotel here April 6, called at St. Vincent's Orphanage today and claimed him. She described herself as Miss Edna Lapinot, 19 years old, of East St. Louis, and was placed under arrest on a warrant charging abandonment.

Miss Lapinot's trip to Chicago with her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Lapinot, was made after Miss Catherine Healy, a juvenile officer, had traced a tip as to the child's parentage and located the young woman, living on a farm near East St. Louis.

The child was found in the hotel room after an elderly woman, registering under the name "Mrs. M. Taylor and daughter and child," had spent the night with a younger woman and the child there. Mrs. Lapinot is also held by police.

The child's mother, who said that she was a typist, named an East St. Louis bookkeeper as the father of the child, and said that the child had been abandoned with the idea that he might be adopted by wealthy foster parents.

Another ordinance provides for construction of five new approaches to the Municipal Bridge and the use of that structure by the Terminal, and the payment of the rental on Eads Bridge out of income from the Municipal Bridge.

It has been understood that Eads Bridge would not be made free until the Terminal begins paying rental for use of the Municipal Bridge, which would be a year or longer, but it is Kratky's suggestion that the city assume the Eads Bridge obligation now, let the rental begin accruing and settle the account later from the Municipal Bridge income. This would require the consent of the Terminal which Kratky believes could be obtained.

The matter has not been taken up with the Terminal and President Henry Miller would not comment.

PLAN TO END EADS TOLL AT ONCE URGED

Neun and Nolte Favor Inquiry Into Proposal Offered by Attorney.

President Neun of the Board of Aldermen and Comptroller Nolte today said consideration should be given to the suggestion made yesterday by Robert Kratky, an attorney, that the city assume the rental and abolish the tolls on the Eads Bridge immediately rather than wait for the construction of new approaches to the Municipal Bridge.

Mayor Miller, the third member of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, to which Kratky addressed his suggestion, declined to comment.

Neun said he already had considered the idea suggested by Kratky and believed it could be worked out. Nolte said he would not favor piling up a large debt until the city knows where it is going to get the money to pay it, but that the suggested plan might be feasible. City Counselor Muench said it could be done legally.

An ordinance recently enacted provides that the city may contract with the Terminal Railroad Association to abolish the Eads Bridge tolls as to pedestrians and private vehicles upon payment of $140,000 a year, or upon payment of $100,000 may abolish all tolls except as to street car passengers.

Another ordinance provides for construction of five new approaches to the Municipal Bridge and the use of that structure by the Terminal, and the payment of the rental on Eads Bridge out of income from the Municipal Bridge.

It has been understood that Eads Bridge would not be made free until the Terminal begins paying rental for use of the Municipal Bridge, which would be a year or longer, but it is Kratky's suggestion that the city assume the Eads Bridge obligation now, let the rental begin accruing and settle the account later from the Municipal Bridge income. This would require the consent of the Terminal which Kratky believes could be obtained.

Lammerts August Clearance Sales— 10% to 50% off

Involving more than $487,000 worth of Quality Furniture, Rugs, Bedding and other Items of Home Furnishing

ONCE MORE all eyes are focused on Lammert's... the August Clearance started today, Monday...no event of the merchandising calendar can compare in importance with the August Clearance and no other August Clearance can compare with Lammert's. We plan for it more carefully...we contact the factories more closely...we spend more time and study devising ways and means to cut corners...to eliminate excessive costs...to increase the buying power of your dollar. The benefits of this energy and resourcefulness are passed on to you in the form of lower prices in the August Clearance.

A Spectacular Series of Special Purchases

The astounding success of our Berkey and Gay Sale last February was so great as to attract national attention. Standards of value-giving were set that promised to endure for years. For that reason in preparing for our August Sales our buyers were instructed to exert every energy to surpass if possible the records they had then established. They were told that thousands of our patrons looked to us to fulfill their expectations of bargains and that we must not disappoint them.

With this incentive they searched the markets intensively for new buying opportunities. Contacts established and maintained through the years with many of today's nationally known factories gave us decided advantages over other stores less fortunately situated. Our buyers were fortunate in effecting a spectacular series of purchases by being able to take advantage of conditions as they arose. These special cash purchases together with a drastic clean-up of our own vast stocks combine to establish values that will equal if not surpass any we have ever offered before.

The Products of Nationally Known Manufacturers

This page does not attempt to convey the scope and magnitude of this August Clearance. We are contenting ourselves with a brief announcement confident that you will find your highest expectations realized. New Styles in Furniture... Domestic and Oriental Rugs... Carpets for Bedroom, Living room, Dining room and Sunroom and Porch... Bedding... Lamps and objects of art greatly reduced. When a store has been in business 69 years and has earned the reputation which we enjoy, manufacturers are always willing to co-operate. It is our pleasure to acknowledge this co-operation and to offer:

Here's a Proposition of Interest to Every St. Louisan Who Wants to Better His Home

THE advantages and conveniences of gas house heating are so numerous that many people have the idea that this method of house heating is expensive. Hundreds of St. Louisans will tell you that it isn't. They'll tell you that they've enjoyed gas house heating for years and years and that the comforts derived from this modern fuel are worth far more than the little difference between the cost of gas and the cost of ordinary fuels.

But don't base your opinion of gas heat on statements from us or from anyone else. Decide for yourself whether or not you want your home to enjoy the comforts of this most modern house heating fuel.

You can try gas heat without risking a cent of your investment. Read this special offer. You'll admit that it's one of the fairest propositions you ever heard of.

Decide now to give gas heat a trial, but don't wait until the heating season is here. Have your installation made while this offer is in effect. Send the coupon today.

Here's the Big Feature of This Offer

IN EFFECT UNTIL OCT. 15.

We will install the Janitrol gas heating unit in your present heating system on a trial basis. Use it until March 1, 1931. Then if you decide it doesn't suit you we will remove it, restore your heating plant to its original condition and refund every cent you paid on the heating unit. You are to be the sole judge. There is no catch or string to this offer.

You Can Get a Free Estimate on the Cost of Heating Your Home With Gas

Send in the coupon or telephone our House Heating Department and one of our representatives will call at your home, thoroughly inspect your heating plant and give you a figure on the cost of converting it to gas.

If these figures appeal to you we ask that you make a $25 deposit as evidence of good faith. You make no further payment until October 1, 1930, then you get a liberal cash discount or begin a series of small monthly payments extending over two years. Immediately after making the deposit a Janitrol, latest type automatically operated gas heating unit, will be installed. This is a conversion type burner and is one of the most popular features in gas house-heating equipment. The cost completely installed is usually about $250.

No Payments on this Equipment during the Coldest Winter Months. For your convenience payments may be suspended during the heaviest heating months—December, January and February.

Get Your Furnace Cleaned Free by Taking Advantage of This Offer Now » »

As a special feature we will completely clean all heating plants where installations are made before October 15th. This also includes painting the front of the furnace and the water pans and the cleaning of register blades. In other words, the Janitrol unit is installed in an absolutely clean furnace.

Skeptical People » » »

may wonder how we can offer to remove the Janitrol after it has been installed and been in operation for several months. The facts are that gas heat is so reliable nowadays and so superior to other forms of house heating that we know from past experience that there is small chance of your wanting the gas heating unit removed.

8 MEN AND WOMAN SEIZED AT BEER PARTY

27 Arrested in Continued Gambling and Liquor Raids.

Twenty-five men and two women were arrested by police yesterday and last night in continued raids against liquor and gambling places. Few of those arrested will be prosecuted.

Eight men, including Fred Spiegel, of 4048 Laclede avenue, and a woman, were arrested at Spiegel's home, when police passing on the street saw a party in progress in the basement and found 400 bottles of beer, a pint of whisky and several hundred empty bottles in the place.

Other persons arrested were: Michael Kierich and another man, 2638 Chouteau avenue; Peter Kragas, 1800 Morgan street; Mrs. Stella Stanovich, 210 Victor street; Artist Sherrill, a Negro, 912 North Ewing avenue; Lewis Van Dorn, 319 South Third street; Lawrence Tobey, 412A South Third street; Charles Irons, a former deputy constable, 2333 Morgan street; Charles Rodenberg, 1727 Park avenue; Alex Evans, a Negro, 3501 North Market street; Leo Casey, 2120 Cass avenue.

Julius Blanke, 4941 North Union boulevard, was held when police, looking into his automobile, which had collided with another at Maple and Hodiamont avenues, found 24 bottles of beer in it.

Griffey Ward, a Negro, was arrested at 2146A Clifton place, when neighbors complained of his singing and police found liquor in the place. Five Negroes were arrested in a smokehouse at 224 North Twenty-first street, where gambling had been in progress, according to police. No gambling equipment was found.

HELD IN CAPE GIRARDEAU EXTORTION PLOT ATTEMPT

Percy Ledbetter Tells Police He Was Hired by Man Who Wrote Threat Letters.

CAPE GIRARDEAU, Mo., July 21.—After telling a story which officers believe to be true, Percy Ledbetter, 23 years old, is held in jail at Jackson pending further investigation of the extortion plot, which came to light here nearly a month ago.

Ledbetter, apparently a wanderer, admits a part in the plot through which it was planned to get $2500 each from three Cape Girardeau men. Ledbetter has spent considerable time in St. Louis.

Riding from St. Louis Saturday with Harry Brown of Cape Girardeau, Ledbetter talked of the extortion plot, causing Brown to deliver the young man to police here. Within a few minutes after arriving here, Ledbetter told of being hired by a "man-looking like a little man" to aid in "doing some work." Ledbetter, who is poorly educated, said he mailed letters here on or soon after June 23 for the other man. He said he was with the "man" the night they received a faked roll of money on Highway 61, near Fredericktown, and escaped, while officers fired at their machine.

That same night Ledbetter was "dropped" by the other man, who drove off when Ledbetter got out of the car at a filling station. Ledbetter told officers he was without money, for he received none from the extortionist.

In his pocket was a list of names which included the three men who got letters. They were Dr. O. L. Seabough, George H. Meyers and Harry Himmelberger.

SITE FOR NEGRO HOSPITAL SELECTED AFTER 5 YEARS

City Officials Decide to Pay $289,625 Into Court for Kennerly Avenue Property.

At a meeting at City Hall today attended by Mayor Miller, Comptroller Nolte, Director of Public Welfare Salisbury, and City Counselor Muench it was decided to pay $289,625 into court for the purchase of the Kennerly avenue site for a new City Hospital for Negroes, and with plans for the structure. The decision definitely terminates a five-year debate on the location of the hospital.

The site to be purchased is bounded by Kennerly, Goode, and St. Ferdinand avenues, and Whittier street. Comptroller Nolte, Director of Public Welfare Salisbury and other city officials favored building the hospital adjacent to the City Hospital, pointing out the economy of a central heating plant, joint X-ray facilities and other advantages. Negro political leaders argued in favor of the Kennerly avenue site as nearer the center of the district occupied by Negroes.

Under the $87,000,000 bond issue of 1923 the sum of $1,200,000 was authorized for the hospital for Negroes. It was stated today that the $910,877 remaining after the purchase price of the site is deducted will permit the erection of a hospital with accommodations for 450 patients. An additional $300,000 may be needed later to completely equip the institution.

Door Open, Robbed of $15,000. By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, July 21.—The night was so hot that Dr. Christopher S. O'Neill left the door of his apartment open. Two armed men walked in with pointed pistols and robbed Dr. O'Neill and his guests of jewelry valued at more than $15,000.

Portugal Bars Lotteries. LISBON, Portugal, July 21.— authorized games of chance. The Home Office barred the Tombola lotteries and all other games, im-

KILLS EMPLOYER AND POLICE CHIEF,
 ENDS OWN LIFE

Caretaker of Pennsylvania Estate Also Wounds Son and Daughter of the Owner

By the Associated Press.
 WILKESBARRE, Pa., July 21.
 —An enraged caretaker of a Lehman Heights estate, near here, shot his employer and a Deputy Sheriff to death, wounded two other persons and then took his own life when cornered by a posse yesterday.

Those killed by Paul Skopka were Harry D. Sordoni of Kingston, owner of the estate, and John T.
 Ruth, Chief of Police of Harvey's Lake and Deputy Sheriff of Luzerne County. Sordoni's 17-year-old daughter, Frieda, was shot in both arms and his son, Francis, 25, was wounded in the right hip and legs.

The shooting began when Mr.
 and Mrs. Sordoni, their daughters, Frieda and Florence, and their son,
 Francis, arrived at the Sordoni estate Saturday night to spend the week-end. They were unloading packages from their automobile when Skopka opened fire with a double-barreled shotgun. The elder Sordoni fell mortally wounded.
 Francis was struck down by another volley as he went to his father's assistance and Frieda was shot when she leaped into an automobile and started for aid.

Despite the wound, the girl sped to the home of a physician, who notified the police. Miss Sordoni then returned to the scene of the shooting and took her mother, who had fainted, and her father to a hospital at Kingston. Another motorist took her brother to the same hospital.

When police arrived at the secluded estate there was no trace of Skopka. A posse searched the woods in vain throughout the night. As dawn broke a shot from ambush brought Ruth down fatally wounded. Skopka put his last shot into his own head.

COUNTY BUS LINE ENJOINED

BY COMPETITOR IN WEBSTER Operation of Bus Belt, Inc., Temporarily Halted by Court Action.

A temporary order restraining the Bus Belt Line, Inc., from operating a line inaugurated last Friday between the southern terminus of the City Limits street car line and the eastern part of Webster Groves, was issued by Circuit
 Judge Mulloy at Clayton today.

The order is returnable Friday.
 Application for the order was made by N. S. Baird, whose De-Luxe Bus Line serves part of the same territory. Baird alleged the Bus Belt line was operating without a certificate of convenience and necessity from the State Public Service Commission.

Devin P. Powers, president of the Bus Belt line, said he applied for a certificate three months ago and so far has received no answer from the commission. He said he has permits from the cities of Maplewood and Webster Groves, which he considers sufficient, inasmuch as his line does not travel over State highways. The Bus Belt line has been operating between the City Limits loop and Shrewsbury for the last two years.

 fractures of the skull and collar bone; Mrs. Betty Pemberthy, 4452 Delmar boulevard, amputation of three fingers of the right hand.

SITTERS KEPT OFF CITY TREES

East St. Louis Declines to Be Liable
 If They Are Hurt.

Tree-sitting boys were barred from perches on city property in East St. Louis today, police being directed by Herman E. Zierrath, Commissioner of Public Safety, and Edward F. Bareis, City Attorney, to take them down and send them to other trees for their endurance contests.

Bareis explained the Illinois Supreme Court had held that the city was liable if any of the boys fell out of the trees on public property and were injured or if they came in contact with high voltage wires. Four of the 30 sitters in the city were using city trees yesterday.

FIRST C. M. T. C. GROUP GOES ON RIFLE RANGE

Ammunition Issued After Youths Are Instructed in Handling Pieces.

Great anticipations materialized today for about half of the youths attending the seventh annual Citizens' Military Training Camp at Jefferson Barracks when they were permitted to fire the Army rifles with which they have drilled for nearly two weeks.

Care was taken that the summer soldiers should learn every detail of their pieces before any ammunition was issued and the drills taught them to handle the rifles correctly. Ammunition was issued today and the first battalion marched off to the rifle range.

Each student was permitted to fire 15 shots at a range of 200 yards in three different positions, sitting, prone, and kneeling. Shots today will not be recorded but the firing tomorrow will be recorded and those qualifying will be awarded CMTC marksmanship emblems. The second battalion will go to the range Thursday and Friday.

The two machine gun companies will practice firing Friday also. Except for the presence of visiting relatives and friends life at Camp Britton was uneventful over the week end.

RECOUNTING MOONEY WITNESS ARRIVES IN SAN FRANCISCO

John MacDonald Ready to Appear Before Governor and State Supreme Court.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 21.—Ill and silent, John MacDonald, witness whose testimony helped send Thomas J. Mooney and Warren K. Billings to prison for alleged participation in the 1916 Preparedness day bombing here, arrived in San Francisco last night ready to show himself a perjurer in an effort to set the two men free. He was accompanied by his attorneys and Edwin N. Nickels, secretary of the Chicago Federation of Labor, on the trip from Baltimore, Md.

MacDonald's attorneys, with Frank P. Walsh, New York lawyer representing the Mooney Defense Committee, and Edwin V. McKenzie, representing Billings, prepared to take MacDonald's story before Gov. C. C. Young and the California Supreme Court.

It was planned for MacDonald to appear personally before the Governor and Justices and repeat the assertion made in his Baltimore affidavit that he had been "coached" to identify Mooney and Billings as the men he had seen plant the bomb which killed ten persons.

STUDENT AVIATOR'S BODY FOUND IN ROOM OF HOTEL

William Walsh of Cincinnati Thought to Have Succumbed in San Francisco After Drinking Party, Bruised.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 21.—The body of William Walsh, thought to be a student aviator from Cincinnati, was found yesterday in his room in a fashionable Nob Hill hotel.

Police, after a preliminary investigation, decided the body injuries, including a broken nose, were the result of repeated falls in the room after a drinking party. Walsh was last seen alive about 10 p. m. Saturday night, after friends reported to the hotel management some one ought to look after him. A maid discovered the body.

Walsh had been a student of aviation in Oakland. Canceled checks showed he had an account in a Cincinnati bank. Clippings and letters also were found concerning a European tour being made by Mrs. F. W. Hinkle and the Misses Mary and Susanne Walsh. Police believed Mrs. Hinkle was the dead man's mother.

SHOOTS WIFE AND TWO MEN

Patient at Asylum Escapes After Getting Information in Letters.

By the Associated Press. PUNXSUTAWNEY, Pa., July 21.—Escaping from the Western Pennsylvania Hospital for the Insane at Dixmont on hearing that his wife was associating with other men, Eugene Vilella today shot and wounded his wife and two men with whom she was returning to their home at Anita, near here. None was hurt seriously by the shots, fired from a shotgun. Besides Mrs. Vilella, those hurt were Paul Redding and M. Tushim. Vilella, arrested and held for felonious shooting, said he had received letters while in Dixmont informing him of his wife's actions. On Saturday, he said, he walked unmolested from the institution. His wife was away when he reached home, he said, adding that he fired when he recognized her in the car with the men when it stopped before the home early today.

FOUR SLAIN IN KOREAN RIOT Clash Caused by Peasants' Arrest
Under Forestry Laws.
By the Associated Press.
TOKIO, July 21.—Rengo News Agency dispatches say four Korean peasants were killed and 28 peasants and nine Japanese policemen wounded in rioting at Tansenjin

Kankyonando Province, Korea, last night.
The clash grew out of the arrest of peasants for violations of the forestry laws. A mob of 2000, armed with clubs and bamboo spears, seized the town office and police station. The police called reinforcements and fired on the mob, which dispersed.

3 CHICAGOANS NAMED IN LOTTERY CHARGES

Ex-Assistant Circulation Head of Herald and Examiner Fugitive From Justice.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
CHICAGO, July 21.—Matt Foley, former assistant circulation manager of the Herald and Examiner, today was a fugitive from justice, charged with conspiracy to defraud employees of the Illinois Central Railroad, in connection with a "Midwest $25,000 Kentucky Derby Sweepstakes."

The warrants which were issued by Judge John S. Labaree in Municipal Court on June 27, name also H. Goodman, another employe of the Herald and Examiner circulation department, and Leo Schoe-mer, both of whom have surrendered and furnished bail. Original warrants charging a misdemeanor were issued by Judge Joseph L.
McCarthy. When Foley was arraigned on this charge it was quashed.

Clyde M. Hoffman of Harvey, Ill., a former flagman for the Illinois Central, signed the complaint as chairman of a grievance committee representing 72 railroad employes.

He is represented by Michael C.
Walsh, Democratic nominee for Congress in the Second District.
Offered Prize of $10,000.

Foley and his associates, according to Walsh, distributed posters announcing the lottery and offering a $10,000 prize to the holder of the winning ticket at the last Kentucky Derby. The poster also offered prizes from $100 to $5000 for the holders of the names of horses placing second to twelfth.
Finally, it was promised that each holder of the name of a horse that even ran in the Derby was to receive $50, as it was understood only about 15 of the 200 listed at that time would actually start.

These tickets, however, according to Walsh, all bore the name of Dick O'Hara, which, it was assumed, would not run because he was so outclassed. Patrick H.
Joyce, president of the Chicago Great Western Railroad and owner of the horse, however, wanted to see his horse in action. O'Hara ran and came in last.

Walsh estimated that 5000 tickets were sold at 50 cents each through the circulation department of the Herald and Examiner. Goodman, a driver for the newspaper, is charged with contacting Schoe-mer, who in turn peddled the tickets among the railroad employes.
After the race, Walsh said, the promoters failed to pay off and a delegation went to see Homer Guck, publisher of the Herald and Examiner. He called in Duffy Cornell, former city editor and now circulation manager, who denied any connection between the lottery and the paper and declared that Foley had been discharged.

When the case comes up for a hearing July 25 Walsh said Cornell would be subpoenaed to tell what he knows about the lottery.

"Threatened to Get His Job."
Hoffman said Guck promised to print the full details of the lottery in the Herald and Examiner after their conference with him, but he had failed to do so. He said that Cornell later threatened to get his job if he persisted in anyone and later on June 25 after he had appeared in court he was discharged by the Illinois Central with the explanation that his superiors had learned of his participation in the lottery proceedings and had been instituted against him.

Walsh said he understood that employes of the Western Electric Co. had been taken in in the same way and that all the drivers and newsboys of the Herald and Examiner had been used to sell tickets.

BOY, 11, ARRESTED FOR ONE BURGLARY CONFESSES ANOTHER

Causes Detention of Man He Says
He Could Send to the Penitentiary.

An 11-year-old boy, who was arrested Saturday as he left the home of Miss Alice and Miss Melba Bressler, 1030 Childress avenue, where he had stolen jewelry valued at $200, confessed robbing another home and gave police information leading to the arrest of a man whom the boy boasted he could "send to the penitentiary for life."

The man denied any wrong-doing and the boy, at the House of Detention, refused to amplify his statement about the prisoner. The boy admitted taking a revolver and two watches from the home of William McCabe, 4531 Arco avenue, last Tuesday, and selling them to another boy from whom they were recovered.

FALLS KILL MAN AND WOMAN

William Bohn, 72; Nanny Ferguson, 68, Fatally Hurt.

Two elderly persons died at City Hospital last night of injuries suffered several weeks ago in falls at their homes.

They were Miss Nanny Ferguson, 68 years old, 1140 Talmadge avenue, who suffered a fractured leg and internal injuries in a fall June 27, and William Bohn, 72 years old, who suffered similar injuries when he fell at the Little Sisters of the Poor Home, Twenty-second and Hebert streets, June 25.

NEW...
THE TRANSCONTINENT SEDAN

FAR MORE MODERN TODAY THAN ANY OTHER CAR OF THE NEXT TWO YEARS

Based upon the same air-cooling engineering principles that have enabled aviation to progress so rapidly in the past few years—employing an airplane-type engine, which in gruelling tests has sensationally flown an airplane—Franklin presents motor car performance in the new Trans-continent Sedan, which completely eclipses all previous conceptions of fine car performance.

$190.00 LESS THAN ANY FRANKLIN PRICE
THIS YEAR. A PRICE POSSIBLE ONLY BECAUSE OF FRANKLIN'S LARGE GAINS IN THE FINE CAR GROUP.

Franklin offers an unusually convenient term payment arrangement, which gives you an excellent opportunity to own a fine car, with very little more outlay from income than the purchase of many lesser cars.

SPRAINS ANKLE
IN PRACTICE BU WILL BE IN SHAPE FRIDAY

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, July 21.—Big Bill Tilden will be physically fit to play in the challenge round for the Davis Cup next Friday, physicians decided tonight after a thorough examination of the ankle injury suffered in practice this afternoon. Tilden had been officially named to the team only a few hours before the accident on the courts at the Roland Garros Stadium. Tilden sprained a nankie in practice match with Karl Kosek, a Czech-Slovakian professional. The American star was reaching for a lob in his practice with Kozeluh when, in making a quick turn on the damp ground, he slipped and sprained his ankle.

By the Associated Press.
Tilden told the Associated Press that "against my wishes and on my judgment I have accepted invitation to play for the United States in the Davis Cup challenge round."

The American tennis star complained that the rule regarding amateur writing by amateur contestants had been waived to a certain extent and that he would be permitted to write tennis articles for a news syndicate for the three ending with Wednesday, July 24, but inasmuch as amateur rules forbid writing articles in competition from writing articles, Tilden did not report the challenge matches on the ensuing Friday, Saturday and Sunday. He said that he had taken a request of Joseph W. W. chairman of the United States Davis Cup Committee.

French Fans Pleased.
The decision of the American Davis Cup Committee to play Tilden in the challenge round was received with satisfaction bordering on delight by French tennis officials and fans. The French were pleased because they felt certain Cochet would beat Tilden. They argued that Cochet gave Tilden such a hard time in England that he now is

Tilden to Play With Davis Cup Team Against France

SPRAINS ANKLE IN PRACTICE BUT WILL BE IN SHAPE FRIDAY

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, July 21.—Big Bill Tilden will be physically fit to play in the challenge round for the Davis Cup next Friday, physicians decided tonight after a thorough examination of the ankle injury he suffered in practice this afternoon. Tilden had been officially named to the team only a few hours before the accident on the courts at the Roland Garros Stadium. Tilden sprained his ankle in a practice match with Karl Kozeluh, Czech-Slovakian professional, today. The American star was reaching for a lob in his practice with Kozeluh when, in making a quick turn on the damp ground, he slipped and sprained his ankle.

By the Associated Press.
Tilden told the Associated Press that "against my wishes and better judgment I have accepted an invitation to play for the United States in the Davis Cup challenge round." The American tennis star explained that the rule regarding syndicate writing by amateur competitors had been waived to a certain extent and that he would be permitted to write tennis articles for a news syndicate for the three days ending Wednesday, July 23, inasmuch as amateur rules forbid players in actual competition from writing articles. Tilden will not report the challenge round matches on the ensuing Friday, Saturday and Sunday. He said that he had taken a place in the challenge round at the special request of Joseph W. West, chairman of the United States Davis Cup Committee.

French Fans Pleased.
The decision of the American Davis Cup Committee to play Tilden in the challenge round was received with satisfaction bordering on delight by French tennis officials and fans. The French were pleased because they felt certain Cochet would defeat Tilden. They argued that Cochet gave Tilden such a hard battle in England that he now is completely exhausted.

NORDSTROM LEADS WESTERN AMATEUR EVENT WITH 72 SCORE

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, July 21.—Lloyd Nordstrom, a rank outsider from Davenport, Ia., took the lead in the first half of the 36-hole qualifying round in the Western amateur golf championship today with a 72, one over par. Nordstrom circled the rugged Beverly Country Club course in 35-34. His putting touch was brilliant although it failed him so completely on the short twelfth that he took four putts. His score was posted with approximately one third of the field still out. One stroke behind him were Johnny Lehmann of Chicago and Don Armstrong of Chicago. Nordstrom's card: Par out...463 443 544-38. Nordstrom...154 443 544-38. Par in...353 444 435-35-71. Nordstrom in 355 474 324-34-72. Elliott Whitbread, St. Louis district champion, shot an 81. The day was perfect for golf, with the temperature around 72. The two British contenders, both once champions, Cyril Tolley and Phil Perkins, now a resident of New York, were late starters. Bob McCarty, of Des Moines, trans-Mississippi champion, got off to a shaky start but landed a 77 to take a place among the leaders. He required 41 strokes, five over par, going out, but shot a good 38 coming back.

Scores for the first 18 holes of the 36-hole qualifying round over the 670-yard Beverly course: Johnny Lehmann, Chicago, 49-35-72. Gus Fetz, Chicago, 49-35-72. W. M. Huntington, Chicago, 49-35-72. POLISH FALCONS WIN AND TAKE LEAD IN INDEPENDENT LEAGUE RACE

SCHUTTENBERG PITCHES TEAM TO IMPORTANT 4-1 DECISION

By Dent McKinnim.

Battled by the pitching of Harry Schuttenberg, the Honey Dew team lost a 4-1 decision to the Polish Falcons and gave up their claim to first place in the Independent League in one of the most interesting of the numerous Municipal Baseball Association games, yesterday afternoon. Playing before a 2000 crowd which filled the portable bleachers and entirely surrounded the field at Fairground, the two teams engaged in a tense struggle in which pitching on both sides was a dominant factor.

The Falcons, hitherto until they reached the sixth inning, bunched a walk and two singles with an error to squeeze three runs across the plate on Fletcher's pitching. Then on him again in the seventh when a single by Prost was followed by Bud's sacrifice and McCoy's single to score a fourth run. Schuttenberg replaced Gannon in this frame and had the Falcons swinging helplessly for the balance of the game, but the damage had already been done.

Allows Seven Hits.

Schuttenberg was reached for seven hits by the Honey Dew, but he succeeded in keeping the hits scattered. It was quite apparent that he had the Indian sign on the opposing batters. He slipped the first pitch over for a strike on many occasions and usually had the batter hitting at a nasty curve for the third strike, or an infield pop up. He looked like a big leaguer until the ninth inning when Left Fielder Wiedner slashed a single to center and then stole second while Schuttenberg held the ball.

The victory broke a tie for first place and gave the Falcons an advantage which at this late stage of the season looks big enough to clinch the pennant, for more games remain on the schedule.

Surely Not Professionals. There have been frequent instructions that the Municipal League baseball players are quasi-professionals. No. They're still amateurs and so are some of the umpires. With men on first and second and a runner on third, the Honey Dew team, yesterday, the batter hit a pop fly to the third baseman and he dropped it, the ball rolling into foul territory. The batter returned to the box and resumed batting, grounded out, moving the runners to second and third from whence one later scored. Yet, the rules say the batter was out when he hit the infield fly and the umpire should have so ordered. Neither umpire, however, now seems to know there is such a thing as an infield fly rule. At least a few of the many leaguers are still playing for the fun of it.

Century Cyclist Wins City Title. Chester Nelson of the Century Cycling Club for the third time won the city senior bicycle title at O'Fallon Park yesterday morning.

Thomas Shinner of the Century Road Club of America won the same honor in the junior division. Louis Dros of the C. C. C. took second in the senior event. J. Griffith of the C. C. C. of A. finishing third.

The veteran Nelson, who won the title in 1927 and 1929 and who was a member of the American Olympic team at Amsterdam, Holland, in 1928, used his years of experience to advantage yesterday morning. He rode well-planned races, finishing strong in the 16-mile event, the hardest and feature race of the day. Nelson's veteran competitor, Dros, who won the title in 1928, again gave the winner the hardest competition of the day, but he was easily in the junior events, as was expected.

Aside from selecting a city champion, the races served to qualify riders from the St. Louis district to compete in the state championships to be held at O'Fallon Park Aug. 2, where the winners of the various state divisions will compete.

RECORD LOOKED FOR IN 8TH AT KINGSHIGHWAY

With track conditions favorable to a fruitful racing, a new five-sixteenths record is expected to be set at the Kingshighway Kennel Club tonight, when Jolly Irishman, Mike Murray, Dark Warrior, Red Royal, Dash's Model, Irish Grey, Meadow's Aristocrat and Dr. Harry, the fastest field ever assembled at the venue for a distance just go to the post in the eighth number.

The bulk of popular support is expected to go to Jolly Irishman, the 1930 Jeffersonville (Ind.) Derby winner, which shares a new record at the North Side establishment, having equalled Goga-Man five-sixteenths, :32 1-5; Copper Head's three-sixteenths, :15 3-4; and Copper Head and Mike Murray's futurity, :32 3-5. The famous router shows more foot over the long path than over the shorter distances and is figured to pace the route in :32 tonight.

Irish Grey and Meadow's Aristocrat equally will receive the greatest attention of the sportsmen and have, respectively, both racers have covered the strip in the near-record time of :32 2-5, as has Dash's Model, which holds five-sixteenths victory over Mike Murray, Red Royal and other prominent newcomers. Irish Grey triumphed, St. Petersburg (Fla.) Derby victory, Friday night, when he scored over Dash's Model, Dark Warrior and other select runners.

Meadow's Aristocrat, sire of dogdom, has won consistent victories, has won seven times and been in the coin five times in his last 13 efforts.

A fast, sturdy number is carded tonight, with Mission Lady, Clooney, West End Eagle and the eighth jumper as contestants; and the ninth, a futurity, brings together Horsham, Sammie Meadows, Warbler, Bulker, Bill Glenvara, Blackie and the favorite, Dix Conejo Mission and Blackie.

STOLEN AUTO RECOVERED,

$250 RINGS STILL IN IT

Jewelry Hidden Under Seat by Woman While Holding Man Searched Husband.

A purse containing three dimond rings valued at $150 and $1 in cash, which Mrs. Max Fisher, 2924 Lafayette avenue, concealed under the seat of her automobile while a robber was searching her husband early yesterday morning, was found last night where she had placed it when the automobile, which the robber took, was recovered in front of 4750 Ashland avenue.

The robber entered the machine while it was stopped at a traffic signal at Clara avenue and Page boulevard, forced Fisher to drive south in Clara and submit to a search after he had driven a block.
Fisher had nothing of value and Mr. Fisher was ordered to leave the machine after the robber had inquired for her jewelry.

The makers of the most successful motor oil have written the specifications for the most Successful Gasoline

Does your memory go back as far as 1896, when one-lunger automobiles first began to chug over the landscape? If it does, then you know that the most successful motor oil in those days was MOBIL OIL. And the reason was that the oil was so made as to be exactly suited to the motors of that time.

Today it is still the most successful motor oil because, with each of the thousand improvements in motors, MOBIL OIL also has been improved to fit the new conditions.

On account of this experience, there is probably nowhere in the country a group of men more intimately acquainted with motor requirements than the famous Mobil Oil Board of Engineers.

So, when they brought out specifications for a GASOLINE to be a fit running mate for Mobil Oil, the automotive world expected unusual results, and they have not been disappointed!

The name of this new product is MOBILGAS ETHYL. It is the only Ethyl gasoline refined, blended and balanced to the exacting requirements of the Mobil Oil Board.

Top Performance Every Minute

The first tankful you try will, we believe, convince you that at last you have found the gasoline that most successfully operates your motor. For Mobilgas Ethyl is more than just an anti-knock gasoline. It is a power-packed dry fuel so full of vitality that you get an instant start, and a prompt surge of power and speed whenever you want it. Complete vaporization and the full benefit of your high compression. It not only brings out all the power and acceleration that were built into your motor, but does so with the least vibration and mechanical stress.

Dismisses Another Motoring Care

Just as millions of motorists have put care out of their minds by adopting Mobil Oil for life, so they are settling the question of gasoline once for all by choosing MOBILGAS ETHYL, the gasoline with a distinguished "family tree."

Generally they begin by being willing to pay a premium for superb performance, only to find that in the end they are saving money through lowered oil consumption, freedom from carbon troubles and lessened repair expense.

If solving your gasoline problem, and solving it right, is worth anything to you, drive today to a LUBRITE station and fill up with Mobilgas Ethyl. If the tank still contains some of the old gas, you will be driving on a mixture of the old and the new, but even so, you should see your motor begin to come to life. Then, with the second tankful of pure Mobilgas Ethyl—well, we'll leave it to you, but we think you're going to be surprised.

Reapportionment Inconsistencies
Due to Major Fractions System*California, With Population Increase of 3,264,- 733, Gains Nine Congressman; While Illinois, Up 1,991,692, Remains the Same.

WASHINGTON, July 21.—The queer quirks performed by "the method of major fractions" as it operates on state populations in the reapportionment of members of the House of Representatives are going to bring about many seeming inconsistencies.

California, with an increase of 3,264,733 in population since the last reapportionment of the House was made, likely will receive an addition of nine members to her delegation, while Illinois, with a gain of 1,991,692 people in the same time, will receive no additional members.

Likewise, Michigan with an increase of 2,008,198, may gain four additional members, while Pennsylvania with an increase of 2,387,899 is down to lose one member.

New York on an increase of 3,485,941 people probably will get two additional members, and New Jersey, with a probable gain of 1,401,833, is slated to gain two new members also, while Texas with an increase of 1,914,141 probably will have three additional Congressmen.

Calculations Upset.
With the populations of 37 states already announced, experts have begun figuring on the makeup of the House under the new reapportionment law. Some of their calculations made a year ago already have been overturned, the latest developments being an indication Georgia will lose two Congressmen instead of none, as previously had been figured. New York likely will gain two instead of losing one. Texas might gain three instead of two, and California, nine instead of six. Minnesota probably will lose one instead of maintaining her delegation of ten as at present, and Ohio may gain only one instead of three as had been forecast.

The actual changes in several instances cannot be determined until the remaining 11 states have reported their population and the method of major fractions put to work.

A tabulation of the actual and estimated increases indicated that in the re-casting of the House, the seats must be shifted about among the states to provide equal representation to 31,420,948 persons.

These seats will automatically be changed by the Census Bureau if Congress fails to act in the coming session.

Probable Delegations.
The present delegations of the various states, the probable delegations as a result of reapportionment with the gain or loss, and the increase in population of the states from 1910, on which the last reapportionment was made, and 1930, follow:

STATE	Pop. 1910	Pop. 1930	Gain or Loss	Prob. Delegation
Alabama	1,957,000	2,048,000	91,000	10
Arizona	208,000	221,000	13,000	3

HOOVER'S TRIP WEST
TO START BY AUG. 10*To Spend Week in Glacier Park, Montana, Then Tour Through Yellowstone.

WASHINGTON, July 21.—President Hoover expects to make public this week or early next week the itinerary and date for starting upon his Western vacation trip. It is thought the Chief Executive will be able to leave by Aug. 10, to be gone probably until the first week in September.

The President has definitely decided to carry through his original desire to make the most extensive stop at Glacier Park in Montana near the international line. Mr. Hoover expects to spend about a week in Glacier Park, stopping at two Madison Chalets on Medicine Lake. Fighting trout of the Cutthroat and Rainbow species weighing up to two and one-half pounds abound in the lake, while around the President will be some of the most beautiful scenery in the West.

Glacier Park is split by the Continental Divide. The lodge where the Chief Executive will stop is close under the east side of the range, looking up four or five thousand feet to snow-covered peaks. From the park entrance to the lodge he will travel by motor over the Blackfoot highway, traversing the Blackfoot Indian reservation.

Leaving Glacier, the party will move southward to Yellowstone Park, probably by motor. While Mr. Hoover hopes to spend almost as much time in Yellowstone, he does not expect to settle down in one spot. Five days are required to tour the park, so the President will have little time for fishing.

CUTHBERT JAMES, M. P., DIES

Lieutenant-Colonel Had Served in Egypt and France.

LONDON, July 21.—Lieutenant-Colonel Cuthbert James, M. P., died today at the age of 58.

Col. James joined the Egyptian army in 1899. He served in the first white Nile expedition against the Khalifa, and subsequently became administrator of Wadi Halfa. In 1904-05 he was assistant financial secretary to the Egyptian army. During the World War he saw service in France with the marines. He was champion boxer of the army and navy in 1898. The Colonel was a Conservative member of the House of Commons for Bromley.

SAYS NARCOTICS, NOT INCENSE WAS BURNED AT ANCIENT RITES*Duke University Professor Declares Prophecy Made Right on Drugs in Biblical Days.

CHICAGO, July 21.—The "incense" used at the altars of the early religionists was not incense at all, a University of Chicago journal said today, but narcotics.

Prof. Allen H. Godbey of Duke University concluded that narcotics are far earlier in human experience than bread, and that the bizarre visions and frenzies of the narcotic-crazed ancients were accepted as revelations from their gods.

Hebrew prophets who opposed incense rituals of their time were not simply championing monotheism, but were making a fight against narcotics that civilization is still carrying on, Godbey said.

Comparing the discovery of alcohol to that of incense, he writes: "Some plutocrat of Paleolithic days, having one day gathered more berries than he could eat, stored the residue in a convenient container. Returning a few days later, he devoured the fermented mass and speedily saw things of whose existence he had not known. So alcohol, the assembler of spirits, was promptly enthroned as one of religion's greatest gods, and still resists the efforts of religion and science to oust him."

U. S. RESEARCH ON EFFECTS OF REFRIGERATOR GASES

Health Service Finds Fumes Deadly Only in Case of Long Exposure.

WASHINGTON, July 21.—Gases used in household refrigerators today were said by the United States Public Health Service to be dangerous only in cases of lengthy exposure to concentrated vapors. A service report based on recent experiments with guinea pigs said that for single exposures and periods of an hour or more the toxicity of ethylene dichloride is comparable to the effects of gasoline, benzene, carbon tetrachloride and chloroform.

Warning, the report said, is furnished by the distinct odor of the refrigerator gas, and danger symptoms are produced by relatively small concentrations.

In cases of death caused by exposure to the gas, the Public Health Service said, lung lesions are the greatest causative factor. Summarizing the physiological response noted in the guinea pigs, it showed that no serious results were obtained in exposure to concentrations of 6 per cent for five minutes, 1.7 per cent for 10 minutes, 0.4 per cent for 30 minutes, 0.2 per cent for two hours, or 0.1 per cent for eight hours.

CANADA MAKES NOMINATIONS FOR GENERAL ELECTION MONDAY*On Thursday Polls Will Be Open for Rail Workers, Commercial Travelers, Sailors.

OTTAWA, Ontario, July 21.—First votes of the Dominion general election will be cast this week. Today is main nomination day. On Thursday advance polls will be opened for railway workers, commercial travelers and sailors. Election day is next Monday.

Nominations will be received today in 171 constituencies, four of them returning two members each. Last Monday candidates were nominated in two divisions which, because of their situation, are allowed an extra week between nomination day and polling day. Today's nominations complete the balance necessary to a House membership of 245.

Each nomination paper must bear the signature of at least 10 electors. A candidate must make a deposit of $200 and unless he gets "a number of votes at least equal to one-half the number of votes polled in favor of a candidate elected" the deposit is not returned. In the phraseology of the law "it shall belong to His Majesty for the public uses of Canada."

Polling hours are between 9 a. m. and 6 p. m. standard time. Six Ontario border municipalities have been authorized to vote an hour overtime to accommodate electors who live in Canada and work in the United States.

HIGH OFFICIAL IN RUMANIA

Minister of Interior Seriously Wounded in Bucharest.

BUCHAREST, Rumania, June 21.—Dr. Constantin Angelescu, acting Minister of the Interior in place of Dr. A. Vaida-Voevod, today was shot and gravely wounded by a youthful student who invaded his office and fired two revolver shots into his body.

The condition of the Minister was said to be precarious. Dr. Angelescu who headed a special Rumanian mission to the United States in 1917, in the capacity of Rumanian Minister to Washington, long occupied a high position in the Bucharest Government. He had been Minister of Public Instruction, Minister of the Interior and of Public Works and was a conspicuous figure throughout the war.

He came into disfavor when King Carol returned and was ordered prosecuted on June 9, for alleged disrespectful utterances but the charges later were said to have been dropped.

HYMNS OF SPITE SUNG BY NATIVES*By the Associated Press.

BOMBAY, India, July 21.—Hymns of spite, designed to encourage the expansion of the independence struggle, are replacing the hymns of devotion which the Hindus observe the first thing every morning.

The movement, started in the densely populated centers of Bombay, is now being carried into the rural districts as well as into the towns and villages.

The hymn singers start out in groups about 5 a. m. daily, and go from one block to another, singing in front of houses. Tenements and flats, in which a large part of the Bombay Indians live, are particularly sought. The songs are sung somewhat in a chant by those of the Congress party who are able to read the words in the booklets which they carry.

France had by far the least unemployment, while English and German figures were about around 2,000,000 each. Unemployment relief cost Germany last year $306,000,000, it was added, while the English payments of unemployment insurance, without counting relief expenditures, amounted to $260,000,000.

MANILA, July 21.—The Philippine Senate today unanimously adopted a resolution protesting against the nomination by President Hoover of Nicholas Roosevelt as Vice-Governor of the Islands.

The resolution cited portions of his book, "The Philippines, a Treasure and Problem," and charged Roosevelt was prejudiced against the Filipinos.

Quick action was taken by the Senate in an effort to forestall Roosevelt's confirmation by the United States Senate. The House also is expected to adopt the resolution.

BOMBAY, July 21.—Police fired on a mob of Indians at Jubbulpore Saturday causing 60 casualties. A riot developed after Nationalist volunteers lay down in front of a motor truck carrying liquor supplies to a contractor's store. Police picked up and removed the first group of manifestants, who were immediately replaced by others. The police fired eight rounds. Among the injured were the City Magistrate, the excise officer, the police superintendent and 12 policemen.

Elsewhere there were indications that the outbreaks which followed Mahatma Gandhi's non-cooperation movement might be settled peacefully. Vallabhai Patel, who now is acting president of the all-India National Congress and is one of the successors of the imprisoned Gandhi in a speech suggested the possibility of compromise.

"We have no quarrel with Englishmen or with England," he said. "All we want is the definite promise that our demands will be met, and if this promise is given I am prepared for a compromise."

Meanwhile, the prominent Indians who will visit Gandhi as peace-makers, Sir Tej Bahadur Sapru and M. Jayakar left Allahabad today bound for the city, and later will visit Gandhi in Yeroda prison at Poona. Their plans have the backing of the Government.

Also in Line of March.

BRUSSELS, Belgium, July 21.—Amid cheering crowds, an army of former soldiers marched through flag-decorated streets yesterday in commemoration of the centenary of Belgium's independence.

Preceded by war mothers and widows, many of whom were weeping, an impressive group of war blinded and mutilated, the latter in flower-covered automobiles, appeared in the line of march. The veterans, with flying colors and led by their former regimental chiefs in mufti, marched for two hours, halting en route to the palace to place wreaths on the unknown soldier's tomb.

March Past King.
Arriving at the royal palace, the procession marched past the soldier King of Belgium, who stood surrounded by military attaches from the allied countries' legations and delegations representing the veterans.

After the King had conferred the Grand Cross of the Order of Leopold on some former soldiers, 150 modest heroes who had received the Order of Leopold on the battle field were his guests at lunch. The Duke of Brabant, Charles de Broqueville, Minister of National Defense, and Burgomaster Max also attended the lunch.

Before the victory march, the Queen handed the national colors to a group of war blind who came to the gardens of the Royal Palace for the ceremony. They carried the colors in parade. The King and Queen had a comforting word for each of the maimed heroes.

Medal for Duke of Brabant.
On the occasion of the independence commemoration, the Duke of Brabant received the medal of a voluntary combatant in the World War. The medal was conferred by a royal decree, and the Duke was promoted to the rank of Major in the First Grenadier Regiment. Prince Leopold is also entitled to the same medal as he enlisted in 1915 and endured the trench life.

From Typhoon.

TOKIO, July 21.—Torrential rains and terrific winds have claimed at least 408 lives and devastated huge areas in Southern Japan and Korea, laying waste property valued by conservative Tokyo newspapers at millions of dollars.

In one area alone, Kiushiu Island, at the foot of the Japanese Empire, property damage reached 100,000,000 yen (about $50,000,000). Other districts reported great damage from storms of the last two weeks, but official figures are lacking.

There are 65 known dead on Kiushiu. Many are missing and hundreds injured.

Seoul dispatches to Tokio newspapers said 58 deaths are known to have resulted from last Friday's typhoon, which swept in from the Pacific, lashed Kiushiu, and whipped across Korea straight into the provinces of Kelsanondo, Kengshokudo, Kankyonando and Kogesho. These provinces, still suffering from the effects of recent floods which killed at least 235 persons, and made thousands homeless, were hard hit by the typhoon.

Property damage in Korea was much smaller than on Kiushiu, but only because of the comparative poverty of the inhabitants.

Indications are the Korean death list will mount much higher. Ninety-two fishing craft, carrying more than 500 fishermen, are missing at sea. Eighty-three persons are unaccounted for ashore.

More than 120 vessels, mostly fishing craft, are missing from Kiushiu Island, where 950 craft of the same type were sunk by the typhoon.

Seas are reported to have reached tidal wave proportions along the Eastern coast of Korea.

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE PICKS POLITICAL SLATE

Not One St. Louis Candidate for Congress or Legislature Is on It.

No St. Louis candidate for Congress or for either branch of the Missouri Legislature is included in the recommendations of the Anti-Saloon League of Missouri, issued today in a local edition of The American Issue, national organ of the league.

In St. Louis County, Sam L. Miller of Maplewood, a candidate for the Republican nomination to the lower House from the second legislative district of the county, is listed as having made a "favorable" reply to the league's questionnaire. This questionnaire consisted of the inquiries:

(1) Do you favor strict enforcement of the national and State prohibition laws? (2) Do you favor any amendment which would tend to weaken them? William H. Tiffin of Ferguson, a Democratic candidate for the lower House in the First District of the county, is recorded as having made a non-committal reply to the questionnaire. Hezekiah Sanders of Webster Groves, Republican, in the Third District of the county, made a reply which is characterized as "indefinite."

In most of the congressional districts outside St. Louis, the candidates are shown to have made "favorable" replies. Of the incumbents running for re-election, those whose records are indorsed by the League are Romie, First District; Lozier, Second; Milligan, Third; Ellis, Fifth; Nelson, Eighth; Cannon, Ninth; and Manlove, Fifteenth.

Other incumbents whose replies were listed as "favorable" are Hopkins, Fourth District; Hisey, Sixth; and Johnston, Sixteenth. "Favorable" replies are acknowledged also from J. F. Culler, First District; H. F. Lawrence, Third; R. E. Culver, Fourth; S. Sieker, C. C. Dickinson and D. A. Dickey, Sixth; Sam C. Meier, Seventh; J. F. Pulbright, Fourteenth; Frank H. Lee, Fifteenth; and W. E. Barth, Sixteenth.

Favorable replies have been received from 92 candidates for the lower House of the Legislature, in districts outside St. Louis. Five are non-committal or indefinite, and one, William D. Shalin, Democrat, of Sedalia, is listed as "unfavorable." He is for State control of the liquor question.

HINDENBURG ATTENDS SERVICE MARKING RHINELAND RELEASE Reads Long Address Declaring Reunion of District to Be Best Guarantee of Peace.

By the Associated Press.
MAYENCE, Germany, July 21.—Solemn Thanksgiving services for the release of the Rhineland from French control were held here yesterday, with President von Hindenburg participating.

The President attended the services at the principal Protestant church here and joined heartily in the anthem. "Now thank we all our God." Similar services were held at the Catholic Cathedral. President Hindenburg read a long address afterward at a meeting in the city hall. He extended fraternal greetings to the population of the Saar region, whose steadfastness under the "foreign yoke," he said, deserved the nation's gratitude. The reunion of the districts to the German Fatherland, he declared to be the best guarantee of European peace.

At Wiesbaden last night the President attended a musical entertainment, after which he spent the night at the home of Baron Langwerth von Simmern, the German Commissioner for the former occupied regions. The President so far has been standing the fatigue of the trip well.

MILK AT PLANT INCREASING
ROGERS, Ark., July 21.—The Rogers Dairy Products Co., which began operation last February following a change of ownership and a closing down since last September after operating six months, is now showing an increase daily in the amount of milk received at the plant. This month a total of 30,000 pounds of milk is being poured daily into the big vats to be reduced to powder after the cream has been separated from the whole milk.

Sixteen trucks are in operation out of Rogers to the homes of the farmers where the milk is gathered up each day. The plant is paying approximately $15,000 per month to the farmers, with the trade territory extending 30 miles distant.

In the struggle against imperialism. The various verses urge everyone to action. Another one reads: "How can you sit idle when others are doing so much in the interest of our native lands?"

One verse urges men, women and children to use the spinning wheel, following Gandhi's lead, and everybody to wear homespun, and "we'll surely win our fight for independence if all of you take the pledge to buy no foreign goods." Another verse is devoted to making India dry, as advocated by Gandhi. Men are urged to give up toddy and all strong drink, not only for their good, but for the cause of independence and as a means of hitting the Government's pocketbook by depriving it of the excise tax.

ELDORADO WOMAN REARRESTED IN ALLEGED MURDER OF MINER

State's Attorney Orders Her Held In Jail, Saying He Didn't Approve Release.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
HARRISBURG, Ill., July 21.—Mrs. Etta Neal of Eldorado was rearrested in connection with the alleged murder of Ed Gallagher, a miner, a year ago, after enjoying a brief period of liberty under bond.

Mrs. Neal, who is charged, with Spencer H. Wilson, Eldorado locksmith, with Gallagher's murder, was released under $10,000 bond Saturday, after her attorney convinced Justice of the Peace Mason Love that State's Attorney D. F. Rumsey, informed of the release, promptly announced that the action was without his knowledge, and he ordered Mrs. Neal rearrested. She is held in jail here. Wilson is also in jail.

It is charged that Gallagher was burned to death in a chicken house on a Gallatin County farm.

A third person is being sought.

NEGRO WOMAN, GIRL, SHOT

Mrs. Alice Robinson, Negro, was shot in the chest and her 12-year-old daughter, Josie, was shot in the abdomen by one of three Negro robbers who invaded their home at 1527 Russell avenue, East St. Louis, early today. The robbers fled without taking anything.

SMALL GRASS FIRES IN TWO CITY PARKS

Magnolia Tennis Club Suffers $300 Damage—Careless Smokers Blamed.

Five small grass fires yesterday in city parks and a private tennis court were attributed to matches or cigarette stubs tossed onto the grass, which has become tinder-dry during the long period of drought and heat.

Three of the blazes were in Forest Park during the afternoon. The first was close to the Primate House of the Zoo, on Wells drive; the second at Jefferson and Wells drives, and the last at Government and Washington drives.

In Tower Grove Park a 200 by 400-foot patch of grass was burned, near Spring and Arsenal street. The other park property blaze occurred at the southeast corner of Wilcox and Eleanor avenues.

Fire starting in grass at the Magnolia Tennis Club, Spring and Magnolia avenues, caused $300 damage to the clubhouse and courts.

A fire of undetermined cause in Joseph Oldani's garage, 5226 Shaw avenue, at 1 o'clock this morning, damaged a passenger car and a truck $2000 and burned or per-

"My solution to the problem of cleansing without irritation is—Palmolive Soap... I feel especially safe in using and recommending Palmolive, because I know that no oils are used in it except vegetable oils. Olive and palm oils have actual cosmetic value in themselves and they are very desirable ingredients in a soap."

Marguerite Hoare

An interview with Marguerite Hoare, of London on the relation of soap to beauty

Why soap is essential—and which soap to choose... answered by adviser to women of exclusive social and diplomatic circles.

WHEN women of importance choose a beauty expert in a strange city, they make their choice with some care. During the Naval Conference in London, the wives of the delegates consulted women in diplomatic circles. Who took care of the wives of ambassadors and ladies of distinguished British families? ... they asked. "Marguerite Hoare, of Mayfair," was the answer.

Miss Hoare's salon at 19 South Wolton Street is one of the world's important beauty shops. Here, Miss Hoare recently gave an interview on home beauty methods that will be of genuine interest to every woman.

Miss Hoare's advice
"When not enough soap and water is used," said this prominent expert, "one risks oiliness, blackheads and similar disfigurements. When the wrong soap is used, one suffers dryness, roughness, irritation, injured skin texture."

"My solution to the problem of cleansing without irritation is—Palmolive Soap. Palmolive is a delightful soap to use—bland, soothing and gentle. Yet its soft lather has wonderful cleansing properties. It softens and carries away all impurities from the pores.

"I feel especially safe in using and recommending Palmolive, because I know that no oils are used in it except vegetable oils. Olive and palm oils have actual cosmetic value in themselves, and they are very desirable ingredients in a soap."

A very simple treatment

The Palmolive method of home cleansing is so easy to follow. Here it is, as outlined by specialists all over the world:

First, massage a rich lather of Palmolive Soap and warm water tenderly into the skin, letting it penetrate the pores for a minute or two. Note how creamy, how soft and gentle, is the lather made by this olive and palm oil soap.

Now, rinse off the soap with plenty of warm water, then colder and colder, until your skin actually tingles.

Your complexion should be cleansed this safe, thorough, refreshing way night and morning.

This Palmolive cleansing is the method advised by Marguerite Hoare of London, who advocates and uses Palmolive Soap in all her beauty treatments. The same method is recommended today by 23,723 beauty experts all over the world, who in all their experience have found no better, safer method. So, when your own beauty expert advises Palmolive cleansing, you may be sure she has excellent background for her statements.

Grits and Gravy.

COLD MILK DRINKS

Children and Grown-Ups Enjoy and Profit by Them.

A cold milk drink—milk shake, malted milk, egg and milk, etc., with a few crackers, provides enough nutriment for a light lunch on a warm day, and is also a good combination for children or grown-ups who require an extra meal in the afternoon.

Most children are better off with a regular mid-afternoon lunch made up of fruit and crackers, a milk drink and crackers, gingerbread and milk, or some similar, simple combination.

When they have it, there is less likelihood for the indiscriminate eating of sweets and the "pickling" that spoils appetites for regular meals.

Rye Bread Sandwich.

Use two slices of peeled, chilled tomato, one thin slice of cheese, a lettuce leaf dipped in mayonnaise dressing, two rashers of broiled bacon and a teaspoon of shredded cabbage. Arrange between buttered slices of rye bread.

SECOND-DAY DISHES
MADE OF COLD MEAT

Directions for Preparing Simple Dishes From Leftover Cooked Meat.

No matter how careful a housewife may be in purchasing meats, the chances are that she will have portions of meat left over from every meal at which the product is served.

While second-day meat dishes are usually complicated, the following directions are for making simple dishes with leftover cooked beef, ham and chicken.

Leftover Chicken Pie.

Take the pieces of chicken left over, as legs, wings, etc., reheat with the leftover gravy and water added to make sufficient liquid to cover the chicken generously. Season with salt, pepper and onion juice. Cook with this small quantity of liquid. When potatoes are nearly soft, turn the whole into a baking dish and cover with a biscuit dough. Bake a nice brown and serve as a luncheon dish, or make into individual chicken pies—chicken may be removed from bones before adding to pie if desired.

Meat Turnovers.
Chop the meat. If the quantity on hand is small, mix it with leftover potato or rice. Season with salt, pepper, onion, etc. Place filling on circular pieces of biscuit dough about the size of a saucer. Fold over the dough and crimp edges together. Bake for about one-half hour in a hot oven.

A brown sauce made from two tablespoonfuls of flour browned in two tablespoonfuls of butter or other fat, to which a cupful of water or stock and a half teaspoonful of salt is added, may be served with the turnovers.

Luncheon Macaroni With Ham.
Cook two cups macaroni in plenty of boiling salted water; drain, pour cold water through it and place in a buttered baking dish. Put raw or any leftover cooked ham, enough to make about one cup, through the food chopper, heat in a frying pan, add two tablespoonfuls of flour and two cups milk gradually; stir all the while until it boils up thoroughly. Pour the mixture over the macaroni, and add one-half cup grated cheese. Bake in a hot oven for 15 minutes.

Meat and Breadcrumb Cakes.
To four parts of chopped or ground meat, add one part of soaked bread crumbs, a small quantity of chopped onions, salt and pepper to taste. Mix and form into small round cakes. Brown the cakes in butter or other fat. Raw ground meat may be used. If so the pan should be covered so that greater heat will be applied.

Potato Meat Pie.
Cover the bottom of a small greased baking dish with hot mashed potatoes, add a thick layer of pieces of ground beef (that are not suitable for slicing hot or cold). Chop or cut them in small pieces season well with salt, pepper and a little onion juice, and moisten with some of the gravy left over from the hot roast, and cover with a thin layer of mashed potatoes. Bake in a hot oven until well heated and the top is a good brown color.

DELICATE MELON SALAD FOR A BRIDGE LUNCHEON
Watermelon and Cantaloupe Are Combined in This Hot Weather Plate.

Prepare a gelatin with one tablespoon of plain gelatin, one tablespoon of lime gelatin product, one tablespoon of lemon juice, two teaspoonfuls of vinegar, half teaspoon salt, a touch of red pepper and one and three-fourths cups of water. Moisten the gelatin with the lemon juice and vinegar and a couple of tablespoons of cold water. Add the rest of the boiling water and dissolve the gelatin. When it isn't steaming hot, add the salt and cayenne. Cool this mixture until it starts to gelatinize.

Place in the mold six one-inch cubes, three each of watermelon, honey dew and cantaloupe. Arrange them around the mold, first a red, then a yellow or white and then a red, etc., permitting a space for the gelatin in between the cubes.

Add the cold gelatin without disarranging the cubes. Chill and allow to become firm.

Unmold and serve on a colored glass plate with the whipped cream and mayonnaise dressing placed in the center of the mold. Combine just sufficient whipped cream with the dressing to make it light. The dressing must not cover the design in the gelatin.

Nut bread sandwiches or nut and cheese sandwiches made with brown bread blend well with the salad. A warm or cold fruit drink would be suitable to serve with this combination.

Cherry Marmalade.
Wash, drain, seed the cherries and run them through a meat grinder. Peel and grind or shred the pineapple. Mix pineapple with cherries, using one-fourth as much pineapple as cherries. To the mixture, add two-thirds as much sugar as there is fruit and juice. Cook mixture until it is clear and thick, stirring to prevent burning. Pour hot marmalade into clean, hot jars. Seal immediately.

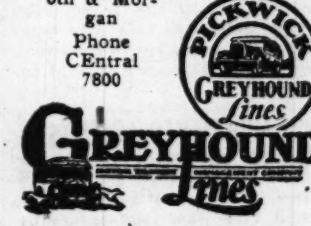

Something to Remember.
Wash salted butter in cold running water. Work with a wooden spoon until waxy and pliable. Then pat and fold the butter until it is free from water.

4 KILLED IN WRECK OF CIRCUS TRAIN

29 Others Injured When Al G. Barnes Special Is Derailed in Canada.

By the Associated Press. MONCTON, N. B., July 21.—A truck arch bar falling beneath a car was blamed today by Canadian National Railway officers for the wreck of a circus train in which four persons were killed and some 29 were injured yesterday.

The derailed train was a special carrying the Al G. Barnes Circus from Newcastle to Charlottetown. The train consisted of 29 cars and the nine derailed cars, four passenger and five flat cars, were behind the seventeenth from the engine. Three men on one of the derailed flat cars were killed outright. They were Albert Johnson and Frank Finnigan, Los Angeles, Cal., who were employed as prommen, and James Arthur Stephens, a one-armed young man from Fredericton, N. B., who was not connected with the circus and was thought to have trespassed on the train. James MacFarland, a waiter, believed to be from Montreal, died soon after the wreck at a hospital.

None of the circus animals was hurt in the wreck. A special relief train brought doctors and nurses from Moncton, where the dead and injured were taken.

Murderous Attack Laid to Heat.

By the Associated Press. DETROIT, Mich., July 21.—A 40-year-old man attacked his wife and three children with a hammer and an ice pick today and then tried to hang himself in the hall of his home. He was cut down by police and placed in the psychopathic ward of a receiving hospital. Physicians expressed the opinion that his mind had been affected by the intense heat. The prisoner, Fred Brandel, had been out of work. The only one of his victims injured seriously is a son, Otto, 12.

FAMILY OF 3 SLAIN WITH AX, HOME FIRED

Geneva, Ill., Farmer, Wife and Son Killed — Woman Suspected of Crimes.

By the Associated Press. GENEVA, Ill., July 21.—Charles A. Anderson, 55 years old; his wife and 15-year-old son Willis, were slain with axes early today in their home near here. His wife, thought by police to have killed her husband and son, was found on the floor with her throat and wrists cut with the sharp edge of a hand-ax. The home had been set on fire, but the flames were extinguished by neighbors.

A long-handled ax had been used to kill Anderson and his son. The neighbors were aroused by Charles Larsen, a brother of Mrs. Anderson, who had been awakened, he said, by smoke and, descending by an outside stairway, was breaking in the windows to get at the fire.

Larsen and the neighbors forced an entrance, put out the fire and discovered the three bodies. Anderson's body lay across a bed, his head and body cut with the long-handled ax which lay beside him. The son, cut and beaten with the ax, lay in another room. He was still alive but died without regaining consciousness. The body of Mrs. Anderson, 48, was on the living room floor. Beside her lay the hand-ax. The beds of Anderson and his son had been set afire.

Sheriff Uhl and the Chief of Police said the position of the bodies and the weapons and the manner in which the three were killed indicated the two men were killed by the woman, who then took her own life. Larsen was held for questioning.

PRINCE MOHAMMED ASSERTS RIGHT TO PERSIAN THRONE

Brother of Late Deposed Shah Ahmed Publishes Declaration to Crown From Paris.

By the Associated Press. PARIS, July 21.—Prince Mohammed Hassan Mirza, brother of the late deposed Shah Ahmed of Persia, yesterday published a declaration asserting his right to occupy the throne of Persia and wear the hereditary "Crown of Darius."

The Prince was several times Regent of Persia and exercised power until overthrown by the present Shah, Riza Khan Pahlavi. Then he came to Paris to join his brother, who had long lived here.

Shah Ahmed, Kajar of Persia, deposed in October, 1925, "in the name of the national welfare" by the Persian Majlis, or Parliament, died in Paris Feb. 27 at the age of 72 and was reputed to be one of the wealthiest men in the world.

On Dec. 13, 1925, Riza Khan Pahlavi was elected Shah by the Constituent Assembly and crowned April 25, 1926.

The Kajar dynasty, which Prince Mohammed is attempting to perpetuate, had ruled Persia since 1779. Ahmed succeeded to the throne in 1909, at the age of 11. He spent much time away from his country on trips to Europe, which caused widespread dissatisfaction at home.

His power was gradually decreased until in 1923 he virtually ceased to occupy the throne and moved from the imperial palace to a home outside Teheran. Shortly afterwards he departed for Paris, never to return.

PRIEST, ORDERED DEPORTED, FACES EXECUTION IN RUSSIA

Pastor of Ukrainian Church Near Harrah, Ok., Appeals to United States Officials.

By the Associated Press. OKLAHOMA CITY, Ok., July 21.—District immigration officials said yesterday that authorities at Fort Worth, Tex., would investigate thoroughly the case of the Rev. Gregory Onyschenko, who says deportation to the Soviet republic will mean his death before a firing squad.

The priest, now pastor of the Ukrainian Church near Harrah, Ok., was admitted to the United States to attend school in New Jersey. The deportation order against the Rev. Mr. Onyschenko was signed July 7. He is charged with remaining in the United States after he left the New Jersey school.

The Rev. Mrs. Onyschenko asserts he was a soldier in the Ukrainian army and opposed Soviet occupation of the region. Because of this he is liable to execution.

Friends of the priest have urged Senator Thomas of Oklahoma to seek to halt the deportation.

WEALTHY ILLINOISIAN KIDNAPED

William Urban of Radnor Abducted, Said to Be Held in Mexico.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. PEORIA, Ill., July 21.—William Urban, wealthy Peoria sportsman, was kidnaped by three men at 9 o'clock today, while he and his 15-year-old son were driving toward Peoria from their summer home near Radnor.

A car containing three men halted them and after taking the boy back with him half mile of his home, drove off with Urban and his machine.

Hurt in Fall Out of Hay Loft.

Manuel Leaver, who has no home, suffered a fractured left arm, a dislocated left ankle and minor injuries yesterday morning when he fell out of the door of a hay loft at Engine Station No. 5, Tenth street and Trendley avenue, East St. Louis, where he had been sleeping. He was taken to St. Mary's Hospital.

JELLIES, PRESERVES, JAM AND MARMALADE

Safe and Sure Methods Suggested for Making These Condiments.

Jams and marmalades have real food value and a definite place in the diet.

Sweets are one of the best sources of energy and when used in moderation are wholesome and almost a necessity.

Pure jams and jellies are good for children as well as grown-ups, and much better than some of the richer types of sweets.

Now is fruit season—the time when the fruit is at its cheapest and best, and therefore the time to make jams, jellies and preserves.

Do you know the difference between jams, jellies, marmalades and preserves? Jams are made from fruit juice and pulp; jellies from the juice alone; marmalades from juice, pulp and some of the skin; preserves are made by cooking the fruit in a thick sugar syrup.

Make in Small Quantities.

All fruits will not make good jelly and strawberries are one of them. They are, however, delicious as jam. It is best to make small quantities at a time. The recipe given here will make four to six glasses, depending on the size.

A good jam is clear in color and almost stiff enough to hold its shape. There is a substance called pectin that is found in varying amounts in fruits. When sugar is combined with this and there is some acid in the fruit it makes a firm, jelly-like mixture. Some fruits contain very little pectin—strawberries among them. Therefore the jam made from them is not as thick as some others unless pectin is added to it.

There is a commercial pectin that can be bought in bottles and used in making jams and jellies to insure their "jelling." It is a safe product and simple to use. Directions are given with each bottle and these should be followed exactly.

Berry Jam.

One of the best berry jam recipes is this. Pick over, wash and hull two quarts of firm, ripe berries. Put in a saucepan with twelve pounds of granulated sugar and let stand overnight or for several hours. By this time some of the sugar will have dissolved and there should be a fair amount of juice. Stir carefully and heat slowly to the boiling point, stirring occasionally to prevent burning. Boil for 20 minutes, removing any skins that form.

While the jam is cooking, wash and scald six jelly glasses. Fill with boiling water and let stand until ready to use. When the jam is done, remove it from the fire. Drain the glasses and fill with the jam. Cool and then cover the top of each glass with a layer of melted paraffin. This protects the surface of the jam from mold.

A Rich Marmalade.

For rhubarb marmalade, wash and cut in small pieces enough young rhubarb to make four cups. Mix with three and one-half cups sugar, the shredded rind of one large orange and one-fourth cupful orange juice. Let stand until the sugar is partly dissolved and then heat slowly to the boiling point. Boil, stirring frequently, for 30 minutes or until the mixture thickens. Remove from the fire and pour into five or six scalded jelly glasses. Cover with melted paraffin in the same way as that described for strawberry jam.

How to Shred Orange Peel.

To shred the orange peel, remove the yellow peel and most of the white in quarters from the orange and then cut in very thin strips with the scissors or a sharp knife. Orange peel, especially the white part, contains a lot of pectin and besides giving flavor to the rhubarb, makes it "jell."

MAKE NEXT SEASON'S SUPPLY OF BLACKBERRY JELLY

Process May Be Simplified Through the Use of Commercial Pectin.

When preparing blackberries for the table they will be found to have a much better flavor if they are washed before hulling. Wash them quickly, never permitting them to lie in water for more than a minute or two. It is better to wash them in running water. Drain thoroughly, hull and sprinkle lightly with powdered sugar. Powdered sugar will dissolve more readily in the berry juice than the granulated.

When berries are plentiful, it is a good plan to make up a supply of jam and jelly for family use. These are wholesome sweets and the addition of sugar gives them much energy value. With the aid of commercial pectin, they may be quickly and conveniently made. If the directions issued with the pectin are carefully followed.

For hulling the berries there are little metal devices, looking somewhat like a pair of broad tweezers, that can be used and which will prevent staining the fingers.

In making blackberry shortcake it will be found helpful to mash most of the berries with a silver fork or a wooden spoon. Sweeten and let them stand in a warm place to draw out the juice and develop the flavor.

Cookie Lollipops.

A good substitute for the candy ones that mother cannot always approve is to cut any plain cookie dough into shapes that please a child, and in the center of each cake place the dampened end of a lollipop stick. Bake as usual.

Favorite Combinations.

Steamed wild rice is delicious served with duck, and duck roasted with sections of oranges or with white grapes is a dish that pleases the most jaded palate.

JUROR ASKS COURT TO SPEED BROOKLYN EX-JUDGE'S TRIAL

Protests Against "Unnecessary" Cross Examination by Defense Attorneys.

By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, July 21.—A juror in the mail fraud trial of former Judge M. Bernard Vause of Brooklyn, and six co-defendants protested to the court today against what he termed "unnecessary" cross examination by defense attorneys.

Hugh Hemmingsway said he did not feel an effort had been made to bring the trial to a conclusion "and we hope that it will be speeded up." When the trial began, he said, it was stated that it would not last as long as a month and "we are now beginning our sixth week."

There are five defense lawyers, two for Judge Vause, and three representing other individuals or groups. Each has cross examined witnesses.

The seven men are accused of mail fraud in the promotion and absorption of the defunct Columbia Finance Corporation, which failed for $400,000 last December. Most of the losses were lower East Side residents.

Instead of their punishment, Eddie Meyer, last July 12, led county and city officers to a cache near Toledo where he showed them $2444 in Liberty Bonds which he had hidden there. Handcuffed, he climbed a tree and brought them down. With their recovery, all the loot was restored.

PROPOSES WORLD CONFERENCE TO CURTAIL WHEAT OUTPUT

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, July 21.—The calling of an international conference of representatives of wheat-growing countries to consider methods for bringing about a world-wide curtailment of wheat production was suggested in a letter to President Hoover today by Senator Thomas (Dem.), Oklahoma.

Instead of the announcement that the Farm Board "is not to buy any more wheat," Thomas wrote, "I suggest that an announcement be made that the Government will give every possible assistance, financially and otherwise, to help the farmers in their present distress."

With wheat and cotton selling for about "one-half the price the same commodities brought when the board was created," he said, a "threatened abandonment of wheat production was suggested in a letter to President Hoover today by Senator Thomas (Dem.), Oklahoma."

Thomas also made public a telegram he sent to Alex S. Foreman, secretary of the Oklahoma Cotton Growers' Association, in which he said he would approve a "reasonable curtailment of production, but only on condition that efforts be made to have other wheat-growing countries join in a similar world movement."

AMERICANS WIN AT CHESS

Capture Two, Draw One With Hitherto Undefeated Germans.

By the Associated Press. HAMBURG, July 21.—Competitors in the team tournament of the International Chess Federation resumed play in the tenth round, in which the United States team was paired with the hitherto undefeated German teams of four. Finishing three of the four games in the first session, the Americans won the match. One game was adjourned.

F. J. Marshall and H. Steiner of New York won from Seimlich and Wagner, and J. A. Anderson of St. Louis drew with Carls. The game between L. Kasdan of New York and A. S. S. was adjourned. The United States' total went up to 24½, Holland having 26, Germany and England each 25, Latvia defeated Norway and England won from Iceland. Lithuania led Holland two to one with one game adjourned.

$10,000 KANSAS CITY HOLDUP

Two Piggy-Wiggly Collectors and Store Are Robbed.

By the Associated Press. KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 21.—Robbers obtained between $10,000 and $15,000 today in a holdup of two piggy-wiggly store supervisors and a store.

The automobile of Robert A. Brown, who had collected $300 from 12 stores, was crowded to the curb by two masked men in a black sedan, one armed with a shotgun. They robbed him and damaged his car. He gave chase unsuccessfully in the car of a passerby. Clarence A. Warden was held up at a post four miles distant and at almost the same time. He said the robbers were in a gray sedan. Just before the holdups a Piggy-Wiggly store was entered and $701 taken from a hiding place.

JUROR ASKS COURT TO SPEED
BROOKLYN EX-JUDGE'S TRIAL
Protests Against "Unnecessary" Cross Examination by Defense Attorneys.
By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, July 21.—A juror in the mail fraud trial of former Justice M. Bernard Vause of Brooklyn, and six co-defendants pressed to the court today against what he termed "unnecessary" cross examination by defense attorneys.
High Henrymenway said he did not feel an effort had been made to bring the trial to a conclusion "and was of the opinion that it will be speeded up."
When the trial began, he said "I was stated that it would not last more than a month and 'we are now beginning our sixth week.'"
The six defense lawyers, two for Judge Vause, and three representing other individuals or groups. Each has cross examined witnesses.
The seven men are accused of mail fraud in the promotion and sale of the defendant Columbia Finance Corporation, which failed for $400,000 last December. Most of the losers were lower-East Side residents.
For their punishment, Eddie McKing was sentenced to 12 months and five officers to a cache near Toledo where he showed them $2444 in Liberty Bonds which he had hidden there. Handcuffed, he climbed a tree and brought them down. With their recovery, all the loot was returned.

PROPOSES WORLD CONFERENCE TO CURTAIL WHEAT OUTPUT
By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, July 21.—The calling of an international conference of representatives of wheat-growing countries to discuss methods of curtailing about a worldwide curtailment of wheat to President Hoover today by Senator Thomas. (Iowa), Oklahoma.
Instead of the announcement made by Faria Board "is not to say more wheat," Thomas wrote, "I suggest that an announcement be made that the Government will give every possible assistance, financially and otherwise, to help the farmers in their present distress."
With wheat and cotton selling for about "one-half the price the same commodities brought when the board was created," he said, a "threatened abandonment of wheat" would lead to the misery of our farm population.
Thomas also made public a telegram he sent to Alex S. Foreman, secretary of the Oklahoma Cotton Growers' Association, in which he asked them to approve a "seasonal curtailment of production, but only on condition that efforts be made to have other wheat-growing countries join in a similar world movement."

$10,000 KANSAS CITY HOLDUPS
Two Pizgly-Wiggl Collectors and Store Are Robbed.
By the Associated Press.
KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 21.—Robbers obtained between $10,000 and $15,000 today in holdups of Pizgly-Wiggl store supervisors at widely separated points.
The automobile of Robert A. Brown, who had collected $3000 from 15 stores, was crowded to the curb by four masked men in a blue sedan, who robbed him with a shotgun. He gave chase unsuccessfully to the car of a pasterby. Clarence Warden was held up at a point some 100 yards distant and at almost the same time. He said the robbery was in a gray sedan. Just before the holdups a Pizgly-Wiggl store was entered and $701 taken from a hiding place.

RAIN LIST LOWER

AT START OF WEEK

ST. LOUIS MERCHANTS' EXCHANGE.
July 21.—Grain futures started the new week on a lower level, declining prices of both wheat and corn being credited to report of rain and cooler weather. Chicago reported wheat arrivals 3 times those of preceding week. Liverpool closed 1d to

The total supply of American wheat available for export was 8,020,000 bushels for September compared with 7,960,000 for October and 8,040,000 for November. The price of No. 2 hard winter wheat was 1 1/4¢ lower, September corn was 1/2¢ higher, and December wheat was 1/2¢ lower. Wheat ranged down as much as 1 cent lower trend.

Corn had fractionally off more than cent. September wheat opened at 89 1/2¢, December wheat 90¢, September corn 80 1/2¢ and December 74 1/2¢.

Total local receipts which were 7,125,000 bushels, compared with 791,000 a year ago, and 884,000 a year ago. Exports added 711 cars, which were 7,355 bushels. Receipts with 180,600 cwt. wheat and 1,000 a year ago, included 40 cars and 1,000 a year ago, which was 50,400 bushels, compared with 81,400 bushels. And 110,000 a year ago, in-

WHEAT PRICE DOWN ON RAIN AND COOLER WEATHER

CHICAGO, July 21.—Beneficial rains and lower temperatures in spring wheat areas, together with a huge increase of the domestic wheat visible supply, tumbled wheat values downward today. Estimates of more than 1,000,000 bushels fresh export business today in United States and Canadian wheat failed to check price set by United States wheat visible supply.

Chicago, Inc. was over 8,000,000 bushels, greatly exceeding that of either of last week or a year ago.

On the 24th, the price of corn advanced 2 1/2¢ to 22 1/2¢ a bushel, while the price of soybeans advanced 1 1/2¢ to 23 1/2¢ a bushel. Oats advanced 1 1/2¢ to 14 1/2¢ a bushel, and clover and alfalfa were unchanged to 18 1/2¢ and 20 1/2¢ a ton, respectively.

On the 25th, the weather led to lower prices early both for wheat and corn.

Besides, the arrivals of wheat in Chicago today, 115,000 cars, against 282,000 cars last week, led to a fall in values down to 21 1/2¢ for the wheat market.

The corn market, however, advanced under an additional 500,000 cars, to 22 1/2¢ a bushel.

Wheat and corn prices were somewhat. Oats were easy.

Despite indications of continued export demand for wheat from North America, the Chicago market much of the time to show little power to rally.

DETROIT VOTES TOMORROW ON MAYOR'S RECALL

Charles Bowles' Opponents Predict More Than Half of Registered Citizens Will Go to Polls.

HE WAS ELECTED
BY 8000 MAJORITY

If Ouster Is Approved, He Automatically Will Be a Candidate to Succeed Himself.

By the Associated Press.
DETROIT, Mich., July 21.—America's fourth city will find out tomorrow whether it has changed its mind since it elected Charles Bowles Mayor last November.

The question of removing him from office will be submitted to the 468,000 registered voters after two weeks of increasingly bitter controversy, in the course of which busy hands have dug into political skeletons closets of three decades. Predictions of the headquarters favoring the recall of the Mayor are that something like 250,000 of these voters will go to the polls. The Mayor and his supporters have made no guesses as to the size of the vote.

The question on the ballots which will be handed to the voters is "shall Charles Bowles Be Called From the Office of Mayor of the City of Detroit?" The voting is simply a "yes" and "no" proposition. Above the question on the ballot are some 400 other words, about equally divided between the charges made against the Mayor and a statement written by him. If the majority of the votes cast favor recalling Bowles, a special election to name his successor will be held within 30 days. In the meanwhile he would remain Mayor and he automatically would become a candidate for reelection. Other candidates would be required to file nominating petitions, signed by voters. Detroit's municipal elections are on a nonpartisan basis and in regular elections there is a primary to reduce the candidates to two, one of whom must have a majority in the final election. In an election to replace a recalled Mayor, however, there is no primary. The office, in such a case goes to the candidate receiving a plurality. Mayor Bowles was elected with a majority of about 8000 with a comparatively light vote.

IRISH RAIL WORKERS THREATEN GENERAL STRIKE AT MIDNIGHT

DUBLIN, Ireland, July 21.—A general strike on the Great Southwestern Railway system, which would tie up passenger and freight traffic throughout the southern and western portions of Ireland, is scheduled to begin at midnight tonight unless the road yields to the demands of its union employes.

A resolution adopted by railwaymen in a mass meeting yesterday called for the reinstatement of discharged workers and urged an immediate general strike, but later their leaders offered to confer with rail executives today, setting midnight as the limit for the settlement of their demands.

The trouble began over efforts of employees of the Irish Omnibus Co., which is affiliated with the Great Southern, to obtain recognition of their union. The bus company refused recognition, saying it was not a railroad, and that its men were linked too closely with the rail union.

WILBUR N. HORNER, 70, DIES AT LEBANON, ILL., OF PARALYSIS

Formerly Was Law Partner of Ex-Gov. Koerner and a Corporation Counsel of Chicago.
Wilbur N. Horner, former corporation counsel of Chicago, died early yesterday at the family residence in Lebanon, Ill., of paralysis, following an illness of five years. He was 70 years old and unmarried.

Mr. Horner was the son of the late Judge Henry H. Horner and was a graduate of McKendree College and Columbia University. He began the practice of law in Belleville as a partner of former Gov. Augustus Koerner. Mr. Horner subsequently moved to Chicago and formed a partnership with former United States Senator Lyman Trumbull. Mr. Horner was stricken with paralysis at his suite in Hotel Congress in Chicago, in July, 1925. Surviving are his sisters, Miss Hattie and Miss Betha Horner, who cared for him during his last illness.

Funeral services will be at 2 p. m. Tuesday from the residence.

Illinois Dance Hall Owner Slain.
By the Associated Press.
LA SALLE, Ill., July 21.—Gus Fox, 45 years old, proprietor of a Spring Valley dance pavilion, was shot and instantly killed last night by a man who robbed the pavilion office of $180. Brad Champey, manager of the dance hall, exchanged shots with the slayer, who escaped.

"Lazy" Said the Boss "Acidity" Said the Doctor!

Charged with laziness—guilty simply of acidity! That's the situation with many men today. They realize that they are not themselves—they're conscious of a vague, tired feeling that's always with them—they know they have to pull themselves together for each and every task—but they can't tell what's the trouble. They're branded as lazy and ambitionless when the real truth is that they're sick men—victims of acidity.

Acidity, due to our unnatural eating habits, irregular hours and other violations of Nature's laws, causes acid-indigestion with gas, sourness and burning. Also, it sets up fermentation and putrefaction in the intestinal tract, which form poisons that sap our strength and vitality, irritate our nerves, spoil our sleep and make us weak, listless and chronically tired.

And now, from Germany, comes this remarkable new oxygen treatment to correct acidity in the right way. Now come Magnesia Oxidized—the great new discovery of noted pharmaceutical chemists in Darmstadt, Germany. These small, white tablets are the only magnesia product known that produces active or nascent oxygen in the stomach, giving quick relief from gas and acting as a purifying tonic on the system. Heartburn, indigestion stop. Then follows a gentle eliminative help—all without the use of dangerous, habit-forming drugs.

To ascertain just how much vitality and health acidity is stealing from you, make this test. Go to Walgreen's Drug Stores or any reliable druggist and get a package of Magnesia Oxidized. Take two after each meal. Notice how much better you feel, how much more soundly you sleep—how much more energy you have because of improved digestion. After taking contents of one bottle, you don't get more than amazing results, return the package. Your druggist will refund every penny of your money, N.Y.

A Novel of Modern Youth
By KATHARINE BRUSH

CHAPTER 17.

At 3 o'clock the lights went up, the orchestra went out for air, and many caterers served a buffet supper. There was a frantic scramble for places and partitions. Girls sat down on divans to "hold" them. Men seized the girls of their choice by the wrists to hold them. Girls and men with plates in their hands dashed about in search of points of vantage and companions of congeniality. Groups congregated on the stairs, in the first floor rooms, on the veranda, on the lawn—everywhere.

Gay and Alan and Irene and Benny Henley belated themselves to an automobile parked behind the house and there supped, without interruption. "If anyone comes butting in," Irene said, "we'll simply start the motor and drive off."

The automobile was a roadster. Benny lolled under the wheel, his plate precariously balanced upon it. Irene was next him, in the middle, and Alan at the end. Alan sat on the floor of the car, half in it and half out, his head resting against Gay's knee and his feet braced on the running board.

"Gosh!" he sighed during a pause. "Listen to 'at ole sea!'" "Umm," said Gay, "I love it." She nudged Irene. "Honey, say 'thank you.' We're complimenting your ocean."

Without haste Irene terminated the kiss in which she and Benny had been casually indulging. "Then," she said in the tone of one resuming an ancient argument, "why not stay? Benny listen, what would you do? I've spent the entire evening trying to persuade these two to stay on here a few days after the rest of you leave—and have I succeeded? I have not."

"Try to persuade me," put in Benny, "and see what happens."

"I'd stay," said Alan. "I'd stay in a minute if Gay would, you know that. I'm crazy to."

"So'm I," said Gay. "I want to stay like the devil. But I just can't. I've got to get back." She thought again of Jerry Davis and continued with more firmness, "I've just got to get back, that's all. You're terribly sweet, Rene, but—ask me again some time."

"It was later, when the report was finished, that their cigarettes glowed in the darkness, that a car shot past them on the gravel drive, so close its hub caps almost clicked with theirs, so fast it startled them all."

"Judas!" exclaimed Alan. "What was that?" "Kirk," said Irene succinctly. "Kirk was her brother, Kirk Nelson, exquire, aged eighteen. He attended Andover, had a precocious penchant for wine and rakish ladies, and enjoyed the distinction of being the only thing in existence about which Irene had ever been known to wince."

"How is Kirk, anyway? Gay asked, watching the tail-light of his car sail like a thrown red ball toward the garage."

"Worse and worse," Gay smiled. "He's a cute kid, though. He intrigues me. Where's he been since we came, anyway?" "Heaven knows," said Irene, plausibly. "He ducked out. My crowd is too old and too slow for little Kirk. All but you, Gay. He adores you, of course. Has since he was 14. Never shall I forget the day he met you! It's written in red letters in my memory as being the first day in all his life he ever brushed his hair without being told."

"There!" Crowded Gay. "Who says I haven't done some good in the world!" "Kirk's car was in the garage now. They could see him climbing out of it, over the side. Then he switched off the lights."

SYNOPSIS.

GAY LEONARD, young, beautiful, athletic young man, is loved by Alan Pomeroy, a worthwhile, athletic young man. She is fascinated, however, by Jerry Davis of questionable reputation. To get her away from him her family takes her off on an eight months' trip. Meanwhile, she thinks only of Jerry. She is somewhat jealous of Dolly Quinn, whom she has met in a cabaret, where Dolly has taken a job as hostess to earn extra money for art lessons. While Gay is away Jerry falls in love with Dolly and tells her so, but she does not care for him in that way. Through Nick Standish, newspaper man, she is selected to enter a beauty contest in Atlantic City. Jerry protests in vain. Gay comes back and is a guest at a lively house party nearby. Mrs. Matthews, her hostess, admits that she would like to see Gay marry Alan. Gay's friend, Jack McClure, begs her to tell her about her heart interest during her absence. She confesses she loves Jerry. During the evening's festivities Alan tries to get her to go outdoors. She refuses. She learns that Dolly Quinn is in the beauty contest and makes up her mind that she must see it, so she and Alan remain as guests of the Matthews.

your uniform, Kirk? And your leather puttees?" "Kirk's face was bland. "Have they made me a second lieutenant?" he queried with interest.

"I hear," Gay said severely, passing over this. "I hear on good authority that you're going to act as character to a Venus from Idaho or somewhere."

"If his audience had expected a 'rise' from Kirk, they were doomed to disappointment. He grinned, quite unembarrassed. "Gay, look at that strike you? A cat run!"

"I'm jealous," Gay pouted. "Cheer up, my dear," said Irene. "There's nothing to get jealous about, I assure you."

"Who aren't?" said Kirk, belligerent. "These alleged beauties. I looked them over last year at one of the parties, and when I got home I said to Ted, 'Do you know who I am? I'm Helen of Troy.'"

"You're demented!" said Kirk indignantly. "Why, some of 'em are the merriest! You ought to see 'em!" He reached in a side coat pocket and brought out a thin magazine folded in the middle. Standing on the running board, his feet in line with Alan's but pointed inversely, he leaned and turned on the dashboard light. "There!" he said, spreading out the magazine across Gay's lap and Irene's. "Take a squint at those, will you, please."

The heads of Gay and Irene and Benny bent forward obediently. "Boardwalk Illustrated," New York, murmured Irene. "Look, they're all in here."

shoulder to opposite hip. "Which is your girl, Kirk?" Gay inquired. "The one you're going to buggy-ride around?"

"I don't know yet," said Kirk. "They haven't notified me. But I know which I hope."

"Which? Show us."

"This one, I'll bet money," Benny said, pointing to a flutty blonde. "Or this one," Irene added, indicating a Castilian brunette.

"Miss Detroit isn't bad," observed Gay. "How's Miss Topfield, Massachusetts?" demanded Alan from the floor where he sat with his back turned.

"Miss what?" "Well, I was born there," Alan said defensively. "Which is it you like, Kirk?" Gay reiterated. "Come on, show us."

Kirk leaned again, and his finger hovered over the spotted page. "I like this one—and this one—and this little honey over here. Any one of those three can dig for my gold, any time."

"This one's the best," Benny said, as man to man. "Miss Manhattan."

"Uh-huh," agreed Gay. Her eyes fell from the picture to the two lines of script below it, and she read them aloud. "Miss Manhattan, Dolly Quinn—Dolly Quinn!" "Do you know her?" Gay's yellow head moved in negation. "No, I don't know her. I—remember having heard about her, that's all."

So well did she remember that she could almost hear again the bantering, teasing voice of Parker Lane. "Brunette," he said. "Black hair, and blue eyes, and awful good."

At the picture. Brunette. Black hair. Eyes probably blue, although it was hard to tell. Pretty certainly. A face and form that Parker Lane would be sure to call "awful good." Dolly, Dolly Quinn. From New York.

New York was a very vast place, of course—but did it, could it, contain more than one little brunette Dolly Quinn?

There were other considerations. Jerry's Dolly Quinn was an ex-dance hall girl, a cheap sort of girl—"the sort of girl exactly," Gay told herself, "who'd enter a contest like this." And Jerry over the telephone had said, "Atlantic City, eh? Along with the rest of the beauties!" His first, his immediate thought...

Gay sat back and drew deep on her cigarette. "I'd love to see this Beauty Pageant," she remarked slowly. "I imagine it would be interesting."

"If you'd stay—" Irene began again wearily. In the end, Gay stayed, and Alan with her.

"Over 6 Million germs have been found on one fly"

says The North Carolina State Board of Health

On the furry, hairy legs of the common house fly, on his body, on his tongue with which he sucks at your food, are dangerous disease-carrying germs. That is why flies bring sickness into your home.

Flies are largely responsible for carrying typhoid fever, dysentery, diarrhea, enteritis, and other communicable diseases, according to the U. S. Public Health Service. What are you going to do about it?

Be comfortable and safe. Keep your home insect-free. Spray Flit, which is guaranteed (or money back) to be quick-death to flies, mosquitoes, moths, roaches, bed bugs and other household insects. Yet its clean-smelling vapor is harmless to humans.

Flit kills quicker if you use the special inexpensive Flit Sprayer. Insist on Flit and don't accept a substitute. Get yours today!

DAILY STORY FOR CHILDREN

By Mary Graham Bonner.

Ocean Dwellers

THE Little Black Clock had turned the time ahead so John and Peggy could travel in a very fine submarine, capable of going farther down in the ocean than any other had ever been able to do.

They were seeing the creatures who lived in the ocean. The sea-anemones were like beautiful flowers but they were really living creatures. Peggy saw a star fish give one of his arms away to prevent being caught by an enemy.

"He was afraid he was going to be captured," the Little Black Clock said, "but he will be able to grow another."

Then John saw a sea-urchin giving its spine away.

"We'll see more of some of these creatures before we finish all our ocean travelling," the Little Black Clock said.

Now they traveled through warmer water and saw coral insects living in rocky bottoms. John had an idea they were covering a good deal of ocean territory, for the boat would rush up to one place and then to another.

What fascinating sights they did behold! There were barnacles swimming about them and attaching themselves to floating seaweed. John and Peggy had often seen these on rocks.

But of all the wonders they marvelled mostly at the flowers they passed upon—which were really alive! Peggy loved the Portuguese man of war flowers, so delicately blue and with such graceful long streamers.

"They could poison you and give you nasty stings if they wished," the Little Black Clock said. "They're alive, too."

"How did they ever get their names?" John asked. "In the old days, when Portuguese and Spanish sailors were trying to outdo each other, the name was given to these creatures and it has belonged to them ever since," the Little Black Clock explained. "Oh, there is so much still to be seen!"

Raw Tomato Relish

Peel and chop one peck ripe tomatoes and drain off the juice. Add to the tomatoes six chopped onions, five chopped green peppers, two cups chopped celery and let stand over night. Drain and add two pounds brown sugar, 1 cup salt, two tablespoons white mustard seed, one tablespoon cinnamon, 1½ pints vinegar. Stir well and bottle cold. A delicious relish.

My Greatest Screen Thrill

By DOLORES COSTELLO.

DOLORES COSTELLO.

MY greatest thrill came shortly after I arrived in Hollywood, while I was still struggling to gain a foothold in the film.

I had appeared with the "Scandals" show in New York, and again in Chicago. By some strange twist of fate one of the Warner Brothers saw our show one night and offered me a job at his studio in California.

My sister Helene and I signed the contracts and hurried westward. We worked in one picture and then found ourselves out of a job. Our search for work boys little fruit, and we were beginning to think that perhaps we had been a trifle hasty in giving up the stage.

Then one glorious day—something happened—I got the thrill of my life.

I had applied for another part at the Warner Brothers studio, and was told "Nothing today." I stood for a moment in the lobby preparing to leave.

Suddenly, a well-dressed gentleman, whom I recognized as John Barrymore, came up and spoke to me.

After he had introduced himself, he told me that I was just the type that he wanted to play the lead opposite him in "The Sea Beast." He offered me the part, and I, thrilled almost to death, immediately accepted.

After that, pictures followed each other in rapid succession. Our friendship ripened into love and marriage.

That thrilling romance was the beginning of our meeting, and the ending, in my case, was an extremely happy one!

HEALTH

Brief articles prepared by experts for the New York Academy of Medicine.
Edited by Dr. Iago Goldston.

Study in Tonsils

DISEASED tonsils often co-exist with other abnormal conditions. Whether or not the diseased tonsils are responsible for the conditions is often a matter of question.

That enlarged tonsils and adenoids may interfere with breathing is easy to see.

But how diseased tonsils may be related to malnutrition, asthma or hay fever, and retardation in school work, may only be conjectured.

In the light of this, a recent study made in Michigan on the effects of the removal of diseased tonsils in 786 children has special value.

The children operated on, had in addition to diseased tonsils, certain other undesirable conditions. Thus, some of the children were not gaining weight nor developing normally; others were malnourished, some had marked enlargement of the cervical (neck) glands.

Some manifested rheumatic reactions, frequent colds and sore throats was the complaint in a number of children and still others were retarded in school work.

One hundred and forty-six children in this group were mentally subnormal.

The study on the effects of the removal of the diseased tonsils in these cases revealed the following:

Tonsillectomy (removal of the diseased tonsils) offers a child considerable relief from such common complaints as sore throats, head colds and mouth breathing.

It reduces malnutrition and promotes the disappearance of enlarged cervical glands.

In 51 per cent of the cases operated upon, the complaints were alleviated. The younger children among those operated upon benefited more than the older ones.

Children with subnormal mentality and retarded school progress showed improvement in 46 per cent of all cases operated on.

TELL IT TO SALLY

Concise Has Made This Girl Sick of Life at the Age of 17.
By SALLY MARTIN

SHE'S sick of life—at 17. No friends—no interests—ambitions—in fact, existence a complete washout to Anne.

If she does go out, she's miserable. Feels that everyone is looking at her and secretly laughing at her. And she huddles wretched in the corner for the evening, hating the world that has no place for her.

"Dear Sally: I am 17 years old, and I'm tired of life. That may sound funny, you but it's true."

"And the strangest thing is I know what the matter is. I know the remedy. But the trouble is, I can't apply it."

"You see, I am with myself too much. I think of myself all day long. I have no friends because I don't go places and do things."

"And I don't go anywhere because I have no friends. So there's a complete circle. I'm not wanted, myself where I'm not wanted, no one knows me well enough to want me. So there you are."

"I know that the way to overcome this condition is to forget about myself, and I know I should not be so conscious of myself even in a minute. I know I should remember when I'm in a group that I'm only one of a crowd, and that people are not all looking at me."

"That I am far from being the most noticeable of the people. However, it's one thing to know what to do, and quite another to be able to do it."

"Oh, Miss Martin! What can I do to get myself out of this present state of unhappiness? Life is so uninteresting to me. So full of just nothing at all, driving me crazy! I want to have something to live for. And haven't a thing."

"You're always saying that it's wonderful. Can you help to see it that way, too? Why wrong with me, that I am a way? Please try to straighten me out, won't you?" "ANNE."

What's wrong with you? Nothing unique, honey—you're just stuck on yourself.

Concise has many forms, I girl, and self-consciousness is of the pestiest. Self-consciousness means consciousness of yourself—everlastingly conscious of yourself—if you're always thinking of yourself, either happily or unhappily, then you're conscious of anyone else.

And if you aren't conscious of yourself, it's a cinch that one else will be conscious of you. (Copyright, 1936.)

Washing Colored Prints

IN PURCHASING cotton prints it is advisable to make sure that the material is color fast. It is important because dirt in through open windows imbedded in the fabric may the fibers unless the pieces frequently washed. Color fast prints of good quality usually have a guarantee printed in the edge, but if there is any doubt about the washability, a sample should be tested before purchase is made.

To wash colored prints use soap and lukewarm water. Before immersing the fabric, dissolve the soap with hot water, then cold water until the right temperature is attained. Avoid twisting wringing. As soon as the suds come flat and the water so change to a fresh supply until fabric is clean.

Rinse three times in lukewarm water and dry as rapidly as possible. If outdoor drying is impracticable, an electric fan indoors help to speed up the drying process. While still slightly damp press on the wrong side with moderately hot iron.

Sour Milk Biscuits.

We are much more apt to use sour milk at this time of the year and this is a splendid way to use it up. Two cups sour milk, eggs, one teaspoon baking powder, two tablespoons melted butter, two flour. Add the well-beaten eggs to the sour milk, in which the soda has been dissolved. Add syrup and butter, sifted flour, a pinch of salt and mix well. Bake in a moderate oven for 25 minutes in a hot oven.

Cherry Charlotte.

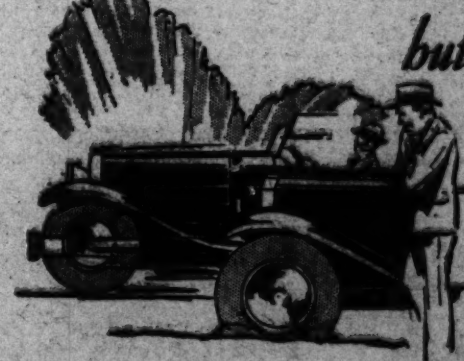

One pound pie cherries, pound granulated sugar, three tablespoons butter, crumbled crumbs. Seed cherries. Cover bottom of a buttered pudding with a layer of breadcrumbs, add a layer of cherries. Sprinkle with sugar and alternate layers until the dish is filled, ending with the crumbs. Dot with butter. Place in a moderate oven and bake for about an hour. Serve hot or cold with hard sauce.

An Ounce of Prevention.

When the children arrive at investigating age, it is time to match, scissors, medicines, similar articles out of their reach until they fully understand the danger of each article and to handle it.

You Malt Users get the facts!

Two Tires may look alike in the store but when you try them out Quality Wins!

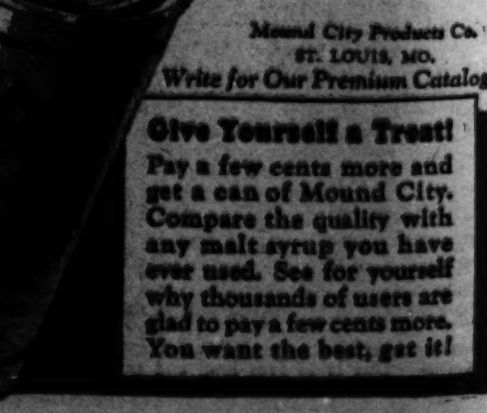

Most of us have learned that you can't get 10 to 20 thousand miles out of a cheap tire. You'll probably get 5 or 6 thousand—and enough punctures to bring the cost up to what you would have paid for a good tire. So why try to economize when the best really doesn't cost any more?

The same thing is true of malt syrups. Why buy cheap malt syrup when the best quality pure barley malt costs only a few cents more? Thousands of malt users have learned this lesson. They know that quality and pure satisfaction every time we overbalance a possible saving of a few cents. That's why Mound City Malt Syrup has become the leading malt syrup wherever it is sold. Try it.

Two cheerful young ladies were private home. A Free-Dispatch N promptly.

AVERY capable girl, everyone agreed. A nice girl, too. Yet she didn't advance. Raises were slow and small. Promotions passed her by. People liked her personally, but seemed to avoid her.

Then Mrs. Carey, the new office manager, had a talk with her. Gave her a tactful hint about "B.O.", the polite term for something people dislike even to mention—body odor. Suggested a simple way to avoid offending. . . . From that day on, her "luck" seemed to change. She's popular with everyone now—has twice been promoted within six months. "B.O." no longer cheats her of friendship or success.

Hotter weather no excuse for "B.O."

We perspire more freely these sultry summer days. We have to in order to endure the heat.

And though we don't notice "B.O." in ourselves, the slightest hint of it annoys others.

But perspiration can be kept odorless by a simple safeguard millions of particular people have adopted. It's Lifebuoy, the delightful toilet soap that lathers so abundantly—even in hardest water. Cleansing, refreshing, mildly antiseptic, this rich, creamy lather penetrates deeply into the pores—removes all odor. Its pleasant, extra-clean scent—that vanishes as you rinse—tells you Lifebuoy purifies.

Fresh, glowing beauty

Lifebuoy helps complexions renew their loveliness. Its scarching, deep-cleansing lather gently frees clogged pores of impurities—freshens dull skins—promotes healthy, radiant beauty. Adopt Lifebuoy today.

Associated Press.
W YORK, July 22.—Bulls regained control of the movement in today's stock market. Apparently the bears were tired to have their little fling last two sessions, and today pressed unwillingly into the arms of the bull faction, for they rated the advance by hasty covering.
There is a feeling in some convulsive circles in the financial market that the move in the market is a little premature, but a number of professional operators have a chance to gain control of the movement on the upside, and apparently to work prices higher. This group is in brokerage circles to have financial backing of one bank-institution. Other institutions apparently unwilling to take active part in the procedure, said to be unopposed to the movement.
The market was still governed entirely by professional operations. There was practically nothing in the day's news to cause natural rally of share prices.
The better than expected quarter earnings statements of a number of companies, however,
a better tone in the commodity markets, helped speculative movement. The general public, as a large body of more or professional traders, still held back from the market, regarding risk as too high while business is still uncertain. Today's volume barely exceeded 2,000,000 shares.

More Reports Received.
Second quarter and first half earnings statements continued to be notable exceptions to the downward tendency. Allis-Chalmers reported first half net of $1.57 share, against $1.72; General Electric, $2.01 vs. $1.89, and United States Leather showed a small balance for the quarter against a large loss last year. Westinghouse Electric's first half net of $3.13 share, however, was substantially below the $4.93 reported for the period a year ago, and Atlantic Refining's $1.05 for the first half was only one-third the net reported a year ago.
Published estimate of last week's oil output indicated further falling of about 30,000 barrels a day, largely in the mid-continent area, which encouraged further activity in the oil. Credit conditions were unchanged, with call loans firmly at 2 per cent.
Vigorous Bidding Late.
The market opened irregularly but with support from the first. Stocks were substantially higher by afternoon, when a period of stagnation ensued. Before the close the advance was redoubled with vigor, and closing prices
were around the day's best.
U. S. Steel, after selling 2 1/2 and up 1 1/2. Such issues as American Telephone, General Electric, Ford, and N. J. Union Carbide, and others, showed gains of 1/2 to 1 point. Power and Electric rises 2 points, last named to a high, reflecting vigorous pool trading.
American Can was a favorite, gaining nearly 5 points in response to bullish activity.
Bethlehem was an object of bear trading, breaking about 4 points, and regaining 2.
In the commodity markets, cotton futures closed 1/2 cent higher. Corn gained about 1/2 cent. Cotton was under pressure during most of the day.
